50 PER CENT OF SPICEJET FLIGHTS GROUNDED FOR 8 WEEKS

New Delhi: Aviation regulator DGCA on Wednesday ordered SpiceJet to operate a maximum of 50 per cent of its flights for eight weeks after several of its planes reported technical malfunction recently. During these eight weeks, the budget carrier will be subjected to "enhanced surveillance" by the DGCA. The airline, however, said there will be no flight cancellations because of the order as it is already operating limited services "due to current lean travel season". | P15

SC upholds ED powers under PMLA

ED can arrest, attach property in money laundering cases, as well as carry out search and seizure

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday upheld the Enforcement Directorate's (ED) powers to arrest, attach property involved in money laundering, as well as search and seizure under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA). Various provisions of the Act were challenged by over 240 petitioners, including Congress member of Parliament Karti Chidambaram.

Observing that money laundering can be a threat to the good functioning of a financial system, the court upheld the validity of certain PMLA provisions. It agreed with the Centre's position that money laundering is also done by terror outfits, posing a big threat to national security.

A bench headed by Justice A M Khanwilkar said authorities under the 2002 Act are not police officers and the Enforcement Case Information Report (ECIR) cannot be equated with an FIR under the Code of Criminal Procedure. The bench said supply of an ECIR copy in every case to the person concerned is not mandatory and it is enough if the ED, at the time of arrest, discloses the grounds of doing so.

The Opposition's complaint is that the Centre has weaponised the law to harass its political adversaries. A host of Opposition leaders are under the ED's lens for alleged money laundering.

Section 45, which deals with offences deemed to be cognisable and non-bailable, have two conditions for bail. The court upheld the twin conditions, adding Parliament was competent to amend the provision in 2018.

"The challenge to the constitutional validity of Section 19 (power to arrest) of the 2002 Act is also rejected. There are stringent safeguards provided in Section 19. The provision does not suffer from the vice of arbitrariness," it said.

The court said the question as to whether some of the amendments to PMLA could not have been enacted by Parliament by way of a Finance Bill/Money Bill has not been examined and is left open to be examined along with or after the decision of a larger bench of seven judges.

World's Kings & Queens to hold court in Chennai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

CHENNAI is all decked up in squares of black and white. There is a Thambi (the mascot) in every street corner welcoming all and at the same time reminding us of the magnitude of the sporting extravaganza in hand. The excitement is palpable. The anticipation is exhilarating.

The 44th Chess Olympiad is finally here. It's only poetic that the city that's hosting it is lovingly called the cradle of chess. Chennai has an excellent chess legacy and can boast of producing 26 Grandmasters.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is set to declare the Olympiad open at a grand Opening Ceremony at the Jawaharlal Nehru Indoor Stadium in Chennai on Thursday. Accompanying him will be Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin, Union sports minister Anurag Thakur and TN governorn R N Ravi.

It had been quite a daunting task for the organising committee and the state government to get the venue ready on time. After the world body (FIDE) stripped the rights off Moscow in February, the TN government showed immense interest and eagerness to host the event. P12,19

BBMP targets 10L Tricolours for households

It has already received 2 lakh flags

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is gearing up to make the 'Har Ghar Tiranga' campaign (hoisting of national flag at every home to mark 75 years of Independence) as part of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav a grand success. The Palike has set a target to distribute 10 lakh national flags to households, shops etc in the city.

The civic body has already received a consignment of 2 lakh tricolours from the Kannada and Culture Department. "We have requested for more flags at the earliest," BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath told the media after holding a coordination meeting with Bengaluru City Additional Police Commissioner Sandeep Patil. "Ward engineers, assistant revenue officers and other BBMP officials will be given the task to go to a maximum number of streets and raise awareness on the Har Ghar Tiranga campaign. Special Commissioner for Administration Rangappa S is the nodal officer for the event," Girinath said.

Rangappa said that the process of distribution of flags zone-wise is on. Officials should meet resident welfare associations, apartment associations and put in all efforts to sell the flags and the amount will then be deposited in the State Government's account. The Har Ghar Tiranga event will be held from August 13 to 15, Rangappa said.

Rangappa added that joint directors have been told to hold meetings with heads of religious institutions and those places that avail government grants to follow the instructions and fly the tricolour.

Not free!

BBMP has also made it clear that the national flags made of polyester and cloth will cost anywhere between Rs 5 and 25. "If it's given without charging anything, it will look like BBMP is giving it.... if the same is purchased by paying a nominal amount, it will create a sense of belongingness," said BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath.

Funding research, philanthropy vital for knowledge society: Kris

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INFOSYS co-founder Kris Gopalakrishnan said that competition for the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) is more global rather than national, and institutes must work towards creating a knowledge society within India.

Gopalakrishnan, speaking as the guest of honour at the IISc convocation on Wednesday, said that for India to grow, it must rely not only on government funding, but also on industries-funding research as well as philanthropists.

"If India has to become a developed country, it will need to be at the top of science and technology. We must become a truly knowledge society and a society that is built on our own ideas, IP, products and enterprises. This requires not just government funding, but funding from industries into research as well as funding from philanthropists," he said.

Gopalakrishnan lauded Mindtree co-founder Subroto Bagchi for his family's recent contribution towards building a multi-speciality hospital on the IISc campus.

Meanwhile, Bagchi said that support must not only come from funding, but also active involvement. "I learnt early on that we must make big commitments to small institutions and the most precious contribution we can make to them is by making ourselves available. We can only be great global citizens when we make ourselves locally relevant," he said.

The convocation, held on Wednesday, saw 246 PhD scholars and postgraduate students, as well as 98 undergraduate students, conferred their degrees. Further, 64 students were also conferred medals for their excellence in academics.

Students urge PM to pass COTPA Amendment Bill

BENGALURU: Over a thousand students from the city have written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi requesting him to take steps to pass the Cigarette and Other Tobacco Products Act (COTPA) Amendment Bill-2020 in the ongoing session of the Parliament to save youths from tobacco addiction. The students along with Consortium for Tobacco Free Karnataka, Anti-Tobacco Forum and National Law School of India University have urged the PM to pass the Bill to prevent early addiction to tobacco. "Youths are being lured by direct advertisements and indirect promotion of tobacco products. They are the main target of tobacco companies as once they get addicted it is difficult to get out of this vicious cycle," said Eshaan S, a student. Their other demands include increasing the legal age for tobacco use to 21 years as well as a ban on advertising tobacco products and a ban on provisions for designated smoking areas in hotels, airports and bars. ENS

Idgah row will be resolved before I-Day: BBMP chief

BENGALURU: Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath has expressed confidence that the Chamarajpet Idgah Maidan controversy will get resolved before Independence Day. Speaking to the media on Wednesday, Girinath hoped that the tricolour will be unfurled at the maidan. There is no connection between hoisting the flag at the maidan and ownership of the land," said Girinath. "The khatha issue is still pending. The deadline (for Wakf Board) will end this week. The Joint Commissioner (West) will take a call and issue an order accordingly," he said. The Palike had given 45 days to the Wakf Board to submit more records and the deadline will end on August 7. Meanwhile, the Wakf Board said that it has already sent relevant documents and will involve its legal cell to claim the absolute ownership of the maidan. ENS

KAMS seeks clarity on enrolment age

BENGALURU: In light of the government order to increase the minimum age for children to be admitted to Class 1, the Associated Management of Schools, Karnataka (KAMS), has sought that the order be revised or clarified. KAMS General Secretary Shashi Kumar said the order presents several problems, and if implemented, must be done phase-wise over the course of a few years, instead of from the next academic year. "Sudden implementation will lead to repercussions for both schools and parents. The fixed minimum age will also lead to a lot of discrimination among students," he said. In a statement, the association said the major problem is fixing the age at 6 years. "It will be unfair for many students who were born in the wrong month, and will need to be held back. There needs to be some sort of flexibility," said Shashi Kumar. ENS

Woman who inspired Kalam continues to battle HIV for 28th yr

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

IT was way back in 2006, that this HIV-positive gritty woman Aasha Ramaiah got a call from then President Abdul Kalam, to seek her permission to quote her example at his interactive session at Shillong. It was at Shillong, incidentally, that Kalam breathed his last on July 27, 2015.

While Kalam often quoted Aasha as an example on several occasions to inspire scores in his speeches, he even mentioned her as one of his eight role models in his book 'Indomitable Spirit' (Page 240). Aasha continues to be an inspiration even today, successfully battling HIV for the 28th year, and continues to miss Kalam, especially on his death anniversary.

Aasha told TNIE that she considers Kalam her major source of inspiration.

With timely medicines and a healthy lifestyle, which includes homemade nutritious food and physical activity, including walking, Aasha has maintained her health, despite challenges thrown by the Covid-19 pandemic.

Aasha has counselled thousands of HIV-infected patients personally, and conducted hundreds of workshops and trained many counsellors on handling HIV patients across the country and world. She said she does it as an independent resource person by tying up with a few NGOs.

Aasha is married to Elango Ramachandra, who is also HIV infected since 33 years and who has been her pillar of support. They are blessed with a 21-year-old son who is free from HIV.

Founder member of Karnataka Network for People Living with HIV and AIDS (KNP+), Aasha had met Abdul Kalam at the Leadership Conclave of Confederation of Indian Industries in Bengaluru in 2006.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

28th July : It's a changeable day in a changeable week. There's a fine selection of planetary patterns today, most of which encourage all of us to break out and do something different just for a change. Of course, we all have to pursue our own goals in our own way, taking our own decisions in our own time. That's the way to go!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
If anything, sociable stars can only get stronger. The entire key to the present period lies in your personal relationships, not just with intimate partners but with everyone – from the powerful and famous to ordinary people. Keep a cash question under close review.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
On no account allow loved ones or other members of the family to undermine your confidence and self-esteem. You are far too vulnerable at the moment and must try to toughen yourself up. Don't build emotional molehills into insuperable, unclimbable mountains.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon's relationship with Mars is rather curious. But why, you ask, should this bother you? Well, for a start you should watch out for legal complications, so don't transgress any laws. Secondly, you must avoid people who are fighting battles of principle.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Financial affairs may intrude into your conscious-ness today, though I don't think there'll be any diffic-ulties. It's more likely that you'll see a way to prosper from some sort of joint investment or spending. However, while your insti-ncts may be bang on, if final agreements happen to be delayed for a few days then you might learn something to your advantage.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You're now into an extremely bright social period which should last over the next two days. If you want to make the most of your life, put dull commitments to one side and make more time for sheer pleasure. And remember that some people close to you are under great strain and need your consideration.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The pleasant side of work, whether formal employment or domestic chores, is to be found in personal relationships. So, whatever you're doing, make it your first priority to team up with other likeminded people. This, I feel, is a time for all people of goodwill to stick together.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Events over the next few days should improve the working pattern of your life. The price, though, may be your willingness to say goodbye to ties or associations which have outlived their usefulness. It's a law of life that all endings are followed by new beginnings, so look on the bright side.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If ever there was a time to change tactics at home, this is it. You may revitalise family relationships and help useful enterprises on their way. You probably understand current difficulties better than anyone, which means that you're in the best position to do something about them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may have to cancel long-standing arrangements to keep the peace with associates and loved ones. However, any venture that is abandoned will quickly be replaced by one that is more to your taste. That, at least, is the theory. In practice nothing will happen unless you make the right moves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
This is without doubt bound to be one of the most family-focused periods of the year for you. It's worth bearing in mind that you won't be truly successful as far as worldly ambitions are concerned unless you feel emotionally secure. If you have any secret fears, then your first step should be to seek reassurance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Personally, and profess-ionally, this should be a rewarding phase. The number of planets acting solidly in your support is now increased to three, which means that there is nothing that can faze you. You can probably talk the hind legs off a donkey, which is a nice way of saying that you can persuade almost anybody to do almost anything!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Matters of a professional and public nature may be set aside for a while for a number of very good reasons. For a start, you must concentrate on purely monetary affairs and, secondly, your very special ambitions cannot be tied down by any specific job or career.

PRAVEEN MURDER

BJP workers attack govt on eve of Nadda's visit

Ravi meets CM, talks about 'out of box' thinking to put an end to heinous acts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON the eve of BJP national president JP Nadda's visit to the state to take part in a rally to celebrate one year of Basavaraj Bommai government in office on Thursday, Sullia BJP worker Praveen Nettaru's murder has turned into an embarrassment for the party, with workers attacking the leadership for being "ineffective".

BJP Yuva Morcha office-bearers from across the state, including Chikkamagaluru, Udupi, Koppala and Tumakuru, tendered their resignations enmasse. Party workers, from Bengaluru and also places like Mudigere, Sringeri and Koppa that are BJP strongholds, have taken to social media to troll the Bommai government and seek the resignation of Home Minister Araga Jnanendra.

BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi, in an apparent move to control the damage, met Bommai and held talks on evolving measures to check such attacks on pro-Hindu activists.

Ravi suspected that Praveen's murder has links with the murders of tailor Kanhaiya Lal in Udaipur of Rajasthan and chemist Umesh Prahladrao Kolhe at Amaravathi in Maharashtra. Both the slain BJP sympathisers had supported suspended BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma on Facebook, while Praveen is said to have supported Kanhaiyalal.

Earlier in the day, BJP leaders, including followers of former chief minister BS Yediyurappa, attacked the government and party state president Nalin Kumar Kateel for their failure to protect BJP workers.

Chief minister's political secretary MP Renukacharya said, "I will resign from my post and also as MLA if strict action is not taken against the perpetrators." He also attacked the home ministry for failing to trace the person who made a threat call to him. "People don't need heroic speeches, but stringent action," he said.

Belagavi district BJP General Secretary Mahantesh Vakkund said, "Will you give justice to our brother activist or will you remove me from the party for tweeting? Yakshagana is enough, time to become Veerabhadra (aggressive)."

In Shivamogga, Padma, the mother of slain Bajrang Dal activist Harsha, said the double-engine BJP government, at the Centre and state, has not been able to take stringent action against perpetrators of such crimes.

Workers are expressing their helplessness, despite the party in power both at the Centre and state. After Chandru, it was Harsha. Now, it is Praveen. Who will it be next? We should think out of the box to root out the jihad which I will not reveal now.

Hundreds of people attend the funeral of murdered BJP youth leader Praveen Nettaru at Bellare in Dakshina Kannada district on Wednesday | D HEMANTH

SOUNDBYTE

Why is the BJP government making no attempt to ensure that such killings don't occur, instead of getting hyperactive after the murders. Such bloodshed happens when elections approach and it is always children from poor families who become victims of such killings. Why is the government not taking on the unseen hands behind such killings.

HD Kumaraswamy, senior JDS leader

Praveen was a party worker and gentleman. His murder has pained me. I suspect the role of fanatical forces behind the incident to create unrest in society. We will expose the conspiracy behind the murder by arresting the people involved in it.

Nalin Kumar Kateel, state president, BJP

The government has no guts or courage to squarely face the challenge. If the government does not act decisively, there will be more deaths. The state government is failing in this matter.

Pramod Muthalik, Sriram Sene chief

I condemn the murder of Bajrang Dal leader Praveen Nettaru in Dakshina Kannada. The police should immediately arrest the murderers and prevent unrest in the region. The police should take action against perpetrators without any bias.

Siddaramaiah, Congress leader

MINISTERS, MP BOOED

Tension gripped Bellare when BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel, district in-charge minister Sunil Kumar, fisheries minister S Angara and Puttur MLA Sanjeeva Matandoor arrived to pay their respects to the deceased. They were heckled by the activists who alleged that they have failed to protect the Hindu activists. The angry mob even tried to topple the vehicle of Kateel even when the driver was inside. Sensing danger, Kateel and the ministers left the spot in another vehicle which further infuriated the mob and they resorted to stone pelting, according to some witnesses. The police resorted to lathi-charge in order to disperse the mob and the situation was brought under control.

CM: Won't rest until culprits are caught

AS a precautionary measure, prohibitory orders under Section 144 of CrPC were imposed in Sullia, Kadaba and Puttur taluks. Many educational institutions, shops and business establishments were shut in the region as the Hindutva outfits had called for a bandh. A bus was stoned in Puttur taluk.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the government will not rest until the culprits are arrested and added that his government will not hesitate to hand over the matter to the National Investigation Agency (NIA) if the need arises. He said the state police are in constant touch with their Kerala counterparts as there are reports that the assailants had come from Kerala.

ADGP (Law & Order) Alok Kumar who is camping here said six special police teams have been formed to nab the accused. Prohibitory orders have been clamped in Dakshina Kannada district police limits till Friday midnight.

Leaders cutting across party lines condemned the incident and demanded the immediate arrest of the culprits. Opposition leaders blamed the deteriorating law and order situation in the country for the incident.

SHOBHA WRITES TO SHAH, SEEKS NIA PROBE INTO MURDER

Udupi: Union Minister of State for Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare Shobha Karandlaje has written to Union Home Minister Amit Shah demanding a probe by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) into the murder of BJP youth leader Praveen Nettar in Bellare, Dakshina Kannada district. In the letter, she stated that extremist groups have unleashed violence in DK district. Mentioning that the assailants came on a bike bearing a Kerala registration number, Shobha said it is apparent that the assailants were from the neighbouring state. "Islamic groups like PFI and SDPI want to disturb communal harmony. The murder of Praveen is a well-planned conspiracy funded by external groups possibly operating from of Kerala," she wrote and urged NIA probe into the murder. ENS

'Nagesh paid govt money for his social media site'

ENS @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS on Wednesday alleged that Education Minister BC Nagesh is managing his social media account using a private organisation in Bengaluru and the money has been paid by the government.

Congress spokesman and former MLC Ramesh Babu said Nagesh has used the services of PPoll Analytics, a private company based out of JP Nagar in Bengaluru, to manage his personal social media accounts and also to propagate the ideas of BJP.

Babu told TNIE that the minister has used the services of the private company for many months at Rs 94,000 per month which was paid for by the government. Babu said the total amount paid is over Rs 5 lakh in the past two quarters and payments have been made through cheques by the Karnataka Examination Board.

Babu, who addressed the media on the issue, said, "If the minister had used this organisation only for the education department work, there would have been no problem. But is it right to use the department's money to pay an organisation to manage his personal social media account and propagate party ideas? I demand that the state government conduct an inquiry and ensure the money is refunded by Nagesh."

Nagesh said it is a political statement made without any shred of evidence. "I deny it," he added.

Bommai to present report card today

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLLI
@Bengaluru

THE Basavaraj Bommai government is all set to mark its one-year anniversary on Thursday with a mega rally – Janothsava — at Doddaballapur near Bengaluru that will be attended by party national president JP Nadda.

On the occasion, Bommai will showcase his achievements on the development front, especially the Raitha Vidyanidhi, a flagship scholarship programme for children of farmers and announce new development programmes and welfare schemes worth over Rs 5,000 crore.

According to a political observer, the new programmes are being announced to portray that the govenment's finances are healthy.

"He will also list various schemes the Union government implemented under Prime Minister Narendra Modi and reiterate that the double-engine government has been delivering the goods," he told TNIE.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar has played a vital role in organising the rally in Old Mysuru region, which is still a tough bet for BJP. He had also toured the districts in the region to mobilise the masses.

After the Janothsava rally, major changes, both in the government and the party, are likely as Nadda will hold discussions on these, especially cabinet expansion which is due for a long time.

Huge cutouts of BJP leaders put up for the Janothsava rally in Doddaballapur

As the appointments to 25 boards and corporations were made recently, more changes will follow as the Assembly polls are approaching fast, sources said.

"We will present the government report card before the people as Bommai has given a pro-people administration. Janothsava evolved out of pressure from the people and it is not to glorify an individual," Sudhakar said.

MISSION 2023

JDS strategises to win more seats in N K'taka

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

JDS, getting into poll mode, is eager to increase its footprint across the state and get a majority on its own.

With eight months left for the Assembly polls, the party is holding a consultative meeting in Bidar on July 29 and 30 to discuss the party's pre-poll preparations in Kalaburagi, Raichur, Koppal, Ballari, Vijayanagar, Bidar and Yadgir districts. These districts together have 39 seats, where JDS once had a considerable sway, but managed to win only four seats in the previous elections.

The four MLAs, Bandeppa Kashempur, Naganna Gouda Kandakur, Raja Venkatappa Naik and Venkatrao Nadagouda, are co-hosting the meeting. "In the last elections, our candidates lost by narrow margins and a little hard work can see our party win more seats," said party deputy leader in the House Kashempur.

Another leader said, "From the entire North Karnataka, we had six MLAs in 2018. After MC Managuli passed away, we are down to five. But we can do well with better preparations. We have five flagship schemes, called the Pancha Rathna, that we will carry to our voters. It is no secret that eight to nine of our MLAs cross over to Congress or BJP every five years."

Kandakur said, "In many constituencies, JDS has strong support and it can be rejuvenated. In Yadgir, Nagtan, Devarhippargi and other constituencies we have solid grassroots strength and we can concentrate on them."

JDS state president CM Ibrahim, senior leader HD Kumaraswamy, former party president HK Kumaraswamy, party district presidents, MLAs, former MLAs and potential poll candidates will take part in the meeting.

Congress leader Umashree at the flag-making unit in Hubballi on Wednesday | D HEMANTH

Rahul may visit Hubballi to join flag code protest

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH
@ Hubballi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi is expected to visit Hubballi on August 2 or 3 to take part in the Karnataka Khadi Gramodyoga Samyukta Sangha's ongoing protest against the Union government for amending the national flag code.

Recently, the Union government amended the code and allowed the manufacture of machine-made polyester tricolours. In protest against the decision, workers of Khadi Gramodyoga Sanghas and others have been protesting in Hubballi.

The Karnataka Khadi Gramodyoga Samyukta Sangha is the only Bureau of Indian Standards-recognised flag-making unit in the country. Tricolours manufactured here are hoisted across the globe.

Congress leaders said Rahul will visit Davanagere to take part in Siddaramotsava, the birthday celebration of Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on August 3. After the event, he is likely to visit the flag-manufacturing unit to extend his support to the protesting workers.

On Wednesday, Congress leaders Satish Jarkiholi, Veeranna Mattikatti and Umashree, freedom fighter Gundurao Desai and others visited the flag-making unit and extended their support to the protest.

Taking a dig at the Union government, former minister Umashree said, "The BJP's flag is different and so is their idea of India. That is why they brought the amendment to the flag code and allowed polyester flags. The khadi flag has emotion, sanctity, respect and it is our pride. Mahatma Gandhi wore khadi and supported cottage industries to make this country a Ram Rajya. But those who don't have respect for this country amended the flag code."

Jarkiholi said there are media reports that a Union minister's son is a partner in the Surat factory, which has been assigned to make polyester flags. "That was the reason the Union government amended the flag code. Weavers are in trouble, and the Union government should support and not discourage them. The gap between the rich and poor has been increasing and we are heading back to pre-Independence days," he said.

Ninety-five-year-old Desai of Kamalapur near Hampi said, "Amending the flag code is an offence and it is painful to know polyester flags are allowed in the country."

Now, you can login, choose and adopt a cow online

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STARTING with Rs 70 a day, now one can feed any one of over 33,000 cattle heads that are sheltered at over 200 goshalas across the state. On Thursday, the Department of Animal Husbandry is launching the Punyakoti adoption website, to allow donors to choose cows they want to feed or adopt. This is the first such initiative in the country where a large number of cows are being allowed to be adopted with customised options.

Department officials said the state has 1.14 crore cattle, including cows and buffaloes. To prevent them from being slaughtered, the state government passed the Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Billl last year. Since then, there has been an increase in the number of aged cows at goshalas managed by private organisations and the government. "Though the government funds these goshals, it is difficult to maintain the animals as the numbers are huge. This is the reason we are opting for private participation," said official sources.

The website has been developed by the department in association with KEONICS and it will have details of over 20,000 of the 33,000 cows. Donors are given options like donating to goshalas, adopting a cow or feeding a cow. Under donation for goshalas, one can contribute starting from Rs 10, under adoption of a cow, one can pay Rs 11,000 per year and to feed a cow, they can donate Rs 70 per day. Donations are exempted from taxes. Donations for goshalas will be used for infrastructure development, including maintenance of cowsheds, providing clean drinking water and various veterinary services.

The portal gives details of cows, including their age, whether they are newborn, rescued from a slaughterhouse, given by farmers, the names and locations of goshala, vaccination and the breed. Donors can choose cows by their age, breed or place.

Primary students in Tamil Nadu will soon get nutritious breakfast for free in schools. The State Government has released ₹33.56 crore for Phase 1 of the project. The scheme is likely to be launched in August

HC orders forming of dashboard to organise property numbers

It should be web hosted by all departments concerned, rules Karnataka High Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO prevent any individual or agency from taking advantage of the confusion over different kinds of property numbers, like khatha, khaneshumari and survey, the Karnataka High Court has directed the chief secretary to appoint a senior officer, preferably an IAS, as a nodal officer to prepare a 'dashboard', collating different forms of property numbers.

The dashboard has to be prepared in coordination with the revenue and urban development departments; town planning and municipal authorities and municipal corporations with the help of the e-governance department, the court said, adding that the dashboard should be web hosted by all the departments concerned.

Dismissing a petition filed by Bengaluru-based real estate firm Vandana Infra Estates, challenging the demolition order passed by the Bangalore Development Authority with exemplary cost of Rs 1 lakh, Justice Suraj Govindaraj granted eights weeks to the chief secretary to file a detailed project report on the dashboard.

IN THE HC

"The petitioner is trying to take advantage of certain lacunae in the manner and methodology of numbering adopted by the panchayat, which is completely unacceptable. The petitioner has sought to suggest false facts as regards the land of the petitioner being covered under khaneshumari and khata numbers without reference to the survey number," the court observed.

The nodal officer has to consolidate and cross-reference the survey number with sub-numbers or numbers of khaneshumari, khata, house list, serial/village panchayat khata, e-khata, municipal khata, town municipal khata/city municipal khata, chalta, BDA/Urban Development Authority site, KHB site, KIADB plot and private layout site among others as already allotted and update it on the dashboard as and when allotted in future. The nodal officer should ensure a search facility to cross-reference search of each of the said details with each other. "The matrix of numbering should be such that for any particular property if different kinds of numbers or identifiers are given, all such numbers and identifiers should be available for everyone to cross-refer. The combined numbering should be web hosted in all departments concerned," the court said.

> The matrix of numbering should be such that for any particular property if different kinds of numbers or identifiers are given, all such numbers and identifiers should be available for everyone to cross-refer.

5 minors get bail, prime accused plea rejected

ENS @ Hyderabad

FIVE juveniles accused in the Jubilee Hills gangrape case were granted bail while the bail plea of key accused Saduddin Malik was rejected by the Telangana High Court on Wednesday.

Four of the five minors were granted conditional bail and released from the juvenile home on provision of a ₹5,000 surety each.

The fifth juvenile, who is the son of a legislator, was also granted a conditional bail. While granting the bail, the court ordered the accused to cooperate with the police as and when summoned and also report to the concerned District Probation Officer every weekend. Saduddin Malik, the only major accused in the case who is lodged in Chanchalguda jail, also moved the High Court, seeking bail. However, his bail plea was rejected for the second time. The six accused abducted the 17-year-old victim from a pub in Jubilee Hills and gang raped her on May 28. But the Jubilee Hills police registered a case only on May 31 after counselling the 17-year-old victim.

Mineral water firm owner files complaint against dealer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OCCUPANTS of a few upscale residential apartment complexes on Kanakapura Road, which do not have Cauvery water on tap, are suspected to have been consuming adulterated mineral water, as the supplier of canned mineral water to these apartments found out that somebody was using the plastic cans and stickers of his mineral water firm to sell water to the public. The supplier has complained to the police to initiate action against the suspects, who are using plastic caps and sealing the bottles to make it look like that they are not tampered with.

Krishna Murthy (38), a resident of Sobha apartments on 100 Feet Road in Uttarahalli, filed a complaint. Murthy has been running the firm for the past 10 years at Thalagattapura. One of the suspects, identified as Prakash, is a water dealer. He used to purchase canned water from the complainant and sell them. He would also collect empty plastic cans from buyers, refill them with substandard water and sell them. After learning about it, the complainant did a reality check and filmed it.

The complainant found out that the suspect was selling sub-standard mineral water to residential apartment complexes in Uttarahalli, Kanakapura Road, and surrounding areas.

"We found that the suspect was refilling water from another mineral water firm, off Kanakapura Road. The suspect was using stickers and bottles of the complainant's firm. A case of cheating was registered," said an officer who is part of investigations.

LEPTOSPIROSIS CASES BACK TO HAUNT UDUPI

PRAKASH SAMAGA @ Udupi

CASES of leptospirosis, also known as rat fever, are slightly on the rise in Udupi. There are 95 cases registered this year so far in the district. Out of 95 cases, June saw 34 cases and 10 cases in July. Currently, the test for rat fever is conducted at the district government hospital and Kasturba Hospital, Manipal. Reagents and test kits are available in sufficient numbers, sources said. Dr Nagarathna, district surveillance officer, told TNIE that, "Leptospirosis spreads only if one comes into contact with rat's urine, but even other animals may cause it."

However, in a majority of the cases, it would have spread through rats' urine and faecal matter which mix with the water during the rainy season. Drinking of water or coming into contact with such water that would have been contaminated through mixing of rat's urine or faecal matters causes this disease, she informed. Those who work in paddy fields, civic workers, fishermen, ragpickers are the most vulnerable category, she said. Sources in the health department said that tests for rat fever are conducted at just two places in the district because of the non-availability of machines that can conduct ELISA tests. It is through ELISA test which shows presence of antigens against the bacteria causing leptospirosis, the disease can be confirmed. As each machine costs Rs 4 lakh, the administration has not invested so much. Currently it is available at the district public health laboratory of the surveillance wing and at Manipal Institute of Virology, (KH) Manipal. This year so far, about 4,000 suspected cases of leptospirosis were tested in the district. Of them, 95 tested positive. In 2019, 6,851 were tested and 344 had tested positive. In 2020, 5,100 were tested and 319 had tested positive. Last year, 6,005 were tested and 354 had contracted the disease. Sources said that all 95 have recovered from rat fever and there is no need to panic.

Severe Covid infection leads to surge in hepatitis cases

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

ON World Hepatitis Day, hepatologists warn of 'Covid-associated' hepatitis being on the rise. Around 30% of patients hospitalised due to Covid are developing hepatitis, as the coronavirus is known to affect the liver. Medication used in management of Covid can also cause hepatitis.

These patients are likely to have had severe Covid and prolonged illness, said Dr Adarsh C K, chief consultant-gastroenterologist, hepatologist, BGS Gleneagles Global Hospital. He cautioned that patients with moderate to severe Covid need liver evaluation, and should avoid self-medication.

Dr A N Desai, Deputy Director, National Viral Hepatitis Control Programme, said that every month, 200-210 confirmed hepatitis cases are reported in the State. Dr Nagendra Kumar V R, consultant paediatric gastroenterology, hepatology and nutrition, Manipal Hospital, Yeshwanthpur, added that they saw severe hepatitis and liver failure due to multi-system inflammatory symptoms among children who suffered from Covid-19. Dr Sandeep Sastangi, hepatologist, Apollo Hospital, Seshadripuram, said they were also seeing a rise in alcoholic hepatitis and fatty liver related hepatitis. About 70 per cent of hepatitis cases were related to unhealthy lifestyle.

Dr Ravi Kiran, consultant hepatology, Narayan Health City, explained that hepatitis is generally caused by viruses like Hepatitis A, B, C, D and E. Acute hepatitis is caused by viruses A and E through unhygienic practices like consuming contaminated water, and undercooked or uncooked food like shrimp and oysters. After an incubation period ranging from two weeks to six weeks, the infection can manifest as jaundice, abdomen discomfort or fever. Dr Ravi Kiran added that Hepatitis B, C and D are contracted through contaminated blood, possibly through body piercing and tattooing, sharing drug needles, razors or toothbrushes, and touching spilled infected blood. Hepatitis B and C can also be contracted through sexual contact. Vaccination against Hepatitis A and B can help prevent infection, he added.

ACB's cursory action is mockery: HC

ENS @Bengaluru

TERMING the speed with which the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) prepared a source report, registered an FIR and conducted a search of a flat belonging to an engineer in 24 hours as "mockery of procedure", the Karnataka High Court chided the ACB for throwing procedures and time required to follow them, to the wind.

"It becomes a fit case, where this court cannot turn a blind eye to the plea of the petitioner for exercise of jurisdiction under Section 482 of the CrPC, and obliterate registration of crime against the petitioner. Failing which, it would become a classic illustration of a case becoming an abuse of the process of law and resulting in miscarriage of justice. Above all, putting a premium on the action of the ACB, notwithstanding the fact that "the ACB blissfully ignored the ABC of procedure", Justice M Nagaprasanna said, quashing the FIR and further proceedings against KR Kumar Naik, Executive Engineer, Operations and Maintenance Division, Bescom, Nelamangala.

Naik's counsel K Satish argued that the process initiated by the ACB is contrary to law, as no preliminary inquiry was conducted, no source report was prepared, and disproportionate assets shown in the 'source report' were zero. Despite this, an FIR was registered, search was conducted and the petitioner was harassed. To counter this, ACB's counsel defended the action of the investigating agency. The court said the report, in corruption parlance, is a source information report. It was generated in haste, the FIR was registered on March 16, 2022, and the source report was also done on the same day, in a jiffy. The ACB, which performs a significant role in checking corruption among public servants, cannot indulge in such a casual act, the court added.

A crime was registered against Naik under the Prevention of Corruption Act by ACB, a day after two travel bags and one carton, allegedly belonging to him, were found during a search on his neighbour Munavar Pasha's flat. This was in connection with a disproportionate assets case registered against J Jnanendra Kumar, Additional Commissioner of Transport, on March 15, 2022, on the allegation that he possessed assets disproportionate to his known source of income.

Lenders sent lewd messages to victim

THE lenders were sending Kumar morphed pictures and uploading them on porn sites. They were also sending lewd messages and porn content to his contacts and friends and made it look as if he had sent them. The city railway police have zeroed in on a few suspects.

Speaking on how the lenders got access to the personal details of the victim, a police officer attached to one of the CEN police stations said the accused deceived the victim by asking him to click on certain links which gave have them access to his electronic devices including computers and laptops. "After getting access, they hack the social media accounts and use it to harass the borrowers.

One should be very careful with loan apps. In a rush to get money, gullible victims share all vital information on such loan apps. Most social media users use password managers to store passwords on their browser as they do not need to memorise it. After getting access to the password manager the accused can easily access social media accounts. It is always better to enter the password each time to keep away from such risks," the officer added.

A case of abetment to suicide under Section 306 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) has been registered against the unidentified accused.

Adhere to timeline for ambulance service, HC to govt

The Health and Family Welfare Services filed an affidavit, stating that it will invite tenders by August 30, 2022, after clearance from the pre-tender scrutiny committee, and issue a letter of intent to successful service providers in 15 days after opening of the price proposal on October 17, 2022. Taking on record the timeline, the court passed the order and directed the government to file a status report with regard to progress of the tender on or before October 25, 2022, the next date of hearing. EFFICIENT WATER MANAGEMEMT CAN AVERT LOOMING CRISIS

Contaminated drinking water is taking a toll on people in Karnataka. The latest report comes from Gonal village in Ballari district, where a young girl died, and 20 fell sick. A youth in Kananakatte village of Davangere district lost his life a few days ago. In the first week of June, as many as five people died in Raichur city in the wards found to be receiving untreated water; the filtration unit, it was discovered, was not cleaned for five years.

The phenomenon is not limited to Karnataka. It is a national tragedy. The National Institution for Transforming India (NITI) estimates that consuming contaminated water leads to nearly two lakh deaths yearly. That is a significant number in absolute terms though it may seem like a fraction of the country's population. Ironically, after almost 75 years of Independence, and with the Constitution guaranteeing the right to life, people die of drinking stained water simply because they cannot access clean water.

The Union government is aware of the looming crisis. That is why a full-fledged ministry called the Jal Shakti Ministry is in place. Its Jal Jeevan Mission aims at providing clean drinking water to every household—a challenging task considering the question: "Where will clean water come from?"

A NITI assessment says nearly 70% of India's underground and surface freshwater is contaminated. The aquifers—the underground rocky channels which hold groundwater replenished by rain—are also getting depleted or affected in populated and industrial areas, mainly due to the digging of bore wells and untreated sewage mixing with water.

People are still not familiar with rainwater harvesting. It is imperative to spread awareness about it, and its hygienic use, on a war footing. As per the Central Water Commission records, India's annual water requirement is 3,000 billion cubic metres. Agriculture alone needs 80% of this water. However, India receives only 4,000 cubic metres of rain annually. Rainwater harvesting, proper water treatment systems and best irrigation practices—apart from stringent water conservation measures—are the best measures needed to avoid a water crisis that India is otherwise headed towards.

CENTRE-STATE TUG OF WAR OVER FLOOD AID

The welling anger over missing Central aid to help Telangana fight the recent Godavari floods has only partly abated, not entirely fallen below the danger mark. The BJP and TRS leaders had flexed their muscles, challenging each other to prove their claims. Municipal Administration Minister K T Rama Rao had alleged that the State had received no funds from the NDRF since 2018. He referred to the list that Union Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai had released in the Lok Sabha on July 19—it mentioned the states that had secured funds to deal with natural calamities. Telangana found no mention in the list. But Union Minister G Kishan Reddy, who represents Telangana in the Union government, countered, saying that the Centre had granted ₹2,970 crore to the State over the last eight years and ₹1,500 crore since 2018. Taking matters to a head, Telangana Governor Tamilisai Soundararajan advised the State government against politicising the issue. There is a grain of truth in both Kishan Reddy's and KTR's arguments.

KTR, while attacking the Centre, did not speak of the funds credited to the SDRF account by the NDRF. He only talked of additional funds not granted by the Centre. On his part, Kishan Reddy side-stepped the Centre's silence on additional funds for calamities but waxed eloquent on the funds credited to the SDRF by the NDRF, which is a statutory requirement. Every year, the NDRF releases 75% of the amount indicated in the SDRF by the State. He did not refer to the Hyderabad floods in 2020 when the Centre did not throw even a red cent though a Central team had visited the city.

It is high time the State and Centre eschewed confrontation in times of natural calamities and worked in an atmosphere of mutual trust. The State could always seek help when a calamity such as the massive Godavari floods strikes, but it should not sound peremptory. The Centre, too, should set aside political differences and consider the State's predicament. There is a time and place for politics. This is undoubtedly neither the time nor the place for it.

The Constitution is a document of compassion and understanding. It is the negation of hate in black and white. It is a unifying force, not a divisive weapon

THE FUTURE OF THE INDIAN CONSTITUTION

KALEESWARAM RAJ

Lawyer, Supreme Court of India

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Recently the Chief Justice of India (CJI) lamented the lack of adequate space for the opposition in the nation's political scenario. He also expressed concern over the lack of democratic discourse in Parliament. Though on the face of it the observations would appear to be political, they are essentially constitutional concerns.

The CJI's is not a lone voice. Many citizens, including those who are supportive of the ruling dispensation at the Centre, are unhappy about the erosion of political morality. The very parliamentary system is based on adult franchise, and the will of the people is expressed through free and fair elections. It is substantially based on the multi-party system. Therefore, 'purchasing' elected members amounts to purchasing democracy. Poaching has become a fine art, where dishonesty which is indefensible is not only defended but even glorified with new hashtags. This poses serious credibility issues for the fundamental values of electoral democracy.

Constitutional offices are no longer conventional. Often, Governors play political rather than official or administrative roles, and they are rewarded for doing what they should not have done. They openly encourage and appreciate the turncoats and convey the message that capturing power by any means is commendable and that the end justifies the means. Often, power is also a commodity in democracy's supermarket.

The Constitution is essentially a check against majoritarianism, for majoritarianism could turn tyrannical at any point in time. The Constitution demarcates clear boundaries between the government as an entity on the one hand and the political party running the government on the other. Pandit Nehru, on the eve of the formation of the first Cabinet, said that the Congress government would not be totally "a government of Congressmen."

But subsequently, the nation witnessed rampant abuse of power by Congress. Misuse of Article 356 of the Constitution resulted in the dismantling of elected governments in the states. Nehru, too, had an egregious share in this. Indira Gandhi invoked Article 352 to proclaim National Emergency purely for political reasons and to safeguard power. The rest is history. The slogan "India is Indira and Indira is India" inflicted a deep wound on the Constitution.

The saga does not end there. As legal scholar Tarunabh Khaitan said, the present regime inflicted "a thousand cuts" on the nation's Constitution. When a political party or its unquestionable leader identifies with the state, it essentially is a negation of democracy. When religion merges with the state, there is no secular Constitution at work. When the Union intrudes into the constitutionally guaranteed Centre-state division of power, there is no federal Constitution. When religious difference, instead of socio-economic inequality, is at the helm of political discourse, there is no constitutional fraternity. When the executive can create and perpetuate a committed judiciary, there is no longer an independent umpire to safeguard the system. As hate speeches and hate crimes are abetted by the state, "we, the people of India" vanishes. Let us face the reality: Many apprehend that we are turning into an electoral, ethnic autocracy.

Often, Governors play political rather than official or administrative roles, and they are rewarded for doing what they should not have done. They openly encourage and appreciate the turncoats and convey the message that capturing power by any means is commendable and that the end justifies the means. Often, power is also a commodity in democracy's supermarket

This, in turn, poses questions over the future of the country's Constitution. One cannot be euphoric about this. Constitutions are not eternal. Scholars Thomas Ginsburg, Zachary Elkins, and James Melton found in a study that the "national constitutions have lasted an average of only seventeen years since 1789" (The Lifespan of Written Constitutions, the University of Chicago, 2009). According to them, factors that destabilise the constitutions include military subjugation and merger or secession of the states and incidents like change in regime or leadership and institutional crises.

The Constitution is not a set of barren provisions or blunt prescriptions. It is founded upon the debates in the Constituent Assembly, which started prior to Independence, on December 9, 1946. The Assembly approved the Constitution on November 26, 1949, at the end of massive deliberations reflecting multiple and even conflicting opinions. The beauty and richness of India's basic law lies in its foundational discursive character. It was not a mechanical adoption of the Government of India Act, 1935. The Constitution is a document of compassion and understanding. It is the negation of hate in black and white. It is a unifying force, not a divisive weapon. It is a "living tree". Deviating from the originalist view of the Constitution, the courts in India have adopted a "living tree" approach, meaning that its provisions are not subjected to textual reading but rather imaginative, pragmatic, and contextual interpretation.

Even in the past, when the nation was confronted with the excesses of power, it was the political metabolism facilitated by the Constitution and its institutions that maintained us as a democracy. It happened through the people. "The little man, walking into the little booth, with a little pencil, making a little cross on a little bit of paper", as Winston Churchill put it, guarded the system and its foundational law against the mischiefs of power. Therefore, the Opposition matters. Right in the Constituent Assembly, members like Ramnarayan Singh from Bihar emphasised the political and constitutional role of the Opposition. The new normal in India's resort politics negates the idea of electoral democracy with the Opposition as its integral part. This is an additional threat to the nation's fundamental perspective. We cannot imagine our Constitution as an election manifesto as has happened elsewhere.

SRI LANKA HOLDS POLITICAL LESSONS FOR INDIA

N SATHIYA MOORTHY

Policy analyst and commentator

After weeks and months of people's struggle, or 'Aragalaya' in the majority Sinhala language, Sri Lanka is limping back to normalcy, though only on the political front for now. The economic crisis has been a legacy issue for every government for decades since its Independence in 1948. A beginning has been made, but it will take years, if not decades, for a full recovery and even more to catch up with the current global trends.

President Ranil Wickremesinghe is third-time lucky. He lost the nation-wide presidential polls in 1999 and 2005 and skipped three more in a row in 2010, 2015 and 2019, anticipating failure. Now, he has made a 'back-door' entry through a quick-fix parliamentary vote approved by the Constitution. Like in his six prime ministerial terms in less than three decades, he will not complete the full five years in his dream job of being President; not in this innings.

The Aragalaya protests ensured the wholesale exit of the Rajapaksa clan, but there is no knowing if they will not return in the distant future. It is wrong to conclude that the Rajapaksas lost out only because of economic mismanagement. Some urban opinion-makers have been working overtime since Mahinda Rajapaksa became President in 2005 to overthrow the clan either electorally, like in 2015, or otherwise—as has happened now.

Yet, Gotabaya Rajapaksa, who fled, committed hara-kiri by ordering an overnight switch-over to 'organic farming', in 'true Tughlaq style'. This decision took what remained an urban forex-cum-fiscal crisis, understandably attributable mainly to global Covid lockdowns, to every rural home in the Sinhala-Buddhist South that formed the Rajapaksa constituency.

In the process, the Aragalaya became deadly as it combined the traditional right, liberal, anti-socialist and selectively anti-graft, anti-Rajapaksa urban middle-class segments. They started the protests in small groups, along with the more organised left-leaning trade and student unions that remained strong and motivated through the past decades of a market-driven economic reforms policy (unavailable in India since). The Gota-created fault-lines, of which 'organic farming' was one of many in recent months, ensured that both groups enjoyed mutual support and much sympathy from the rural folk.

He who had master-minded the military victory over the dreaded LTTE was baffled when it came to deploying the security forces against peaceful protests hijacked by 'left-leaning, non-violent insurgents'. India's non-violent freedom movement may not have been an inspiration here, but the results were near-similar, including the yet-to-be probed arson attacks.

In the case of India, in comparison, the country's political right and left—under not-so-identical circumstances—sought to exploit the unsuspecting anti-corruption initiative of Anna Hazare in what became a long run-up to the 2014 parliamentary polls. In the end, the BJP as a party, Narendra Modi as a leader, and other individuals such as Arvind Kejriwal and Kiran Bedi succeeded.

Sri Lanka took to market-oriented economic reforms in 1978 for the same reasons India was forced to 12–13 years later. The reforms, however, proved a bane for the poor and the middle class and a blessing for the rich in both countries.

In a new-found, consumerist environment, Sri Lanka, an agrarian economy with little scope for industrialisation, and in the absence of the indicated FDI inflows with guaranteed export markets, ended up opening its lifeline farm sector to foreign brands, comprising dairy products and fruits, pharma and white goods. In a way, today, Sri Lanka is knocking at the very door of the IMF, whose entry had started it all.

Unlike in India, the Sri Lankan State is petrified at the possibility of a return of a Sinhala-left insurgency (1971, 1987) and ethnic Tamil militancy (since the mid-seventies), both of which owe their birth to competing socio-economic aspirations fuelled by electoral compulsions

As if this were not enough, the socialist-era health and education systems, coupled with later-day exposure to the developed world through readily-available low-end migrant jobs, meant that the social sector expenditure of successive governments could only go up.

The current Indian situation is no different. However, unlike in India, the Sri Lankan State is petrified at the possibility of a return of a Sinhala-left insurgency (1971, 1987) and ethnic Tamil militancy (since the mid-seventies), both of which owe their birth to competing socio-economic aspirations fuelled by electoral compulsions.

Post-reforms India learned its socio-political lessons early on. Manmohan Singh, the 'architect of economic reforms', quickly acknowledged after the ruling Congress party's electoral defeat in 1996 that the nation needed (only) 'reforms with a human face'. This meant that even as the Indian State and its constituents opened up the economy for foreign investors and punters alike, they also expanded their social sector commitments, barring proportionate increases in annual job intakes that a nation of India's size required.

In India, the Centre, citing Sri Lanka's case, has ticked off some States over their 'freebies' culture. But it has adopted many of them too, especially from States like Tamil Nadu. In the prevailing circumstances, can socio-political protests of the Sri Lankan kind be staged or stage-managed from within the country or anti-India forces from outside to de-stabilise elected state governments?

In a past era without social media presence, Kerala had the Congress-initiated 'Vimochana Samaram', or 'liberation struggle', against the world's first democratically-elected Communist government. Then there was the anti-Hindi agitation in Tamil Nadu, the JP movement across Congress-ruled central India, and the Morarji Desai-led Navnirman Movement in Gujarat. States like Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Jammu & Kashmir, West Bengal and Punjab also witnessed mass protest movements.

However, in the absence of a critical mass in India—at least not yet visible—a protest of the Sri Lanka kind cannot be possible against a more-than-stable Centre, now or in the near future. But it is also the added responsibility of the strong Centre to ensure that state governments' stability is nurtured and not allowed to be rocked, politically or otherwise. Only then can the nation as a whole continue to breathe easy in these times of economic hardships forced by conflicts like the Ukraine War and other domestic misadventures. Opening the Pandora's Box is simply not on!

Sonia's ED moment

This is with reference to ED questions Sonia for 6 hrs, calls her today (July 27). It is the Enforcement Directorate's prerogative to question any person in this country who is suspected to have been involved in major financial scams and that does not exclude Sonia Gandhi. If she is not in good health, the ED is permitting her intervals to take medicines and mingle with her son and daughter, among other usual allowances. Why should Congress make a huge fuss about Sonia being questioned? Let them understand the Enforcement Directorate does not question anyone as a pastime.

Congress and its troubles

I can't help but laugh at the attitude of Congress towards the ED questioning of the Gandhis in the National Herald case. This seems to be like taking anticipatory bail in the case. Why should Congress be so anxious? Is it a feeling of guilt? What is even more amusing is the placard being held which says 'Satyamev Jayate'. The Congress rule was marked by a whole lot of scams. Its coalition partners in various states were known for corruption cases. Highlighting the national motto only underscores the fact that the truth will someday see the light of day and that the tainted will be punished.

SC and freebies

It is good that the Supreme Court wants to reign in the culture of freebies. There is so much competition between political parties. They say they want to uplift the poor but seem to be more interested in handing out freebies. Lured by the freebies, voters seem to forget about the problems that have burdened them for so long, like unemployment. The voter is the one who suffers at the end of it. The SC has done well.

Census delay to hit policies: Experts

Lakhs will be left out of welfare schemes; Finance Commission awards to be affected

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

INDIA'S Census 2021 once again has been postponed till further orders, according to the Ministry of Home Affairs.

This is the second time that the enumeration exercise that was expected to be completed by March 2021 is getting another extension due to Covid-19 pandemic.

Speaking to TNIE, experts expressed concern over the government's move, saying that delaying the exercise further will derail several welfare programmes, policies and resource allocations, which are based upon population data.

Noted economist and former chief statistician Proanb Sen said that since the government hasn't notified any date for even the house listing, Census is going to be further delayed, which will severely impact welfare schemes and policies.

Currently, many central programmes are planned based on the 2011 Census. Sen said the recommendations of the Finance Commission are going to be impacted by the delay as it depends upon the population estimates. "It is the single largest component, single most important component of the Finance Commission awards," he said. Though the 15th Finance Commission recommendations are based on 2011 Census data, for the next Finance Commission, new population figures are necessary, he added.

Sen pointed out that since foodgrain allocations to states/UTs under Central quota are based on the 2011 population figures, lakhs of beneficiaries will be deprived of the benefits. According to estimates, approximately 10 crore people are projected to be left out of the food subsidy schemes because of the delay in Census.

Dipa Sinha, assistant professor with Delhi's Ambedkar University, who is also associated with the Right to Food Campaign, said the Public Distribution System will be hit by the delay. "Census is the most important data and it's long overdue. It's the most reliable data. Fertility rates, migration, schools, urban policy, urban housing, migration all are decided by Census. The PDS allocations are related to proportions of population. If the population figure is 10-year-old, we will continue to use that, depriving the benefits for crores of people," she said. Data on migration will also suffer, especially after Covid, she added.

Sample selection for surveys on consumption, housing and labour will also be impacted, Sen further pointed out.

Member of the erstwhile Planning Commission, N C Saxena, however, begged to differ and asserted that the delay in the Census exercise won't impact government policies or programmes in a big way.

Population data 10 years old

Last Census was conducted in Feb-March 2011

Latest Census was to be completed by March 2021, but was postponed due to Covid

According to 2011 Census, India's population was about 121 crore

Census is done in two phases — house-to-house survey and population enumeration

Census is the most credible source of information on demography, education, housing and household amenities, urbanisation, fertility, etc

Programmes and policies for food distribution, education, sample selection for housing etc are based on Census data

'Teen pregnancies, early marriages impediment in population control'

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

EVEN as the fertility rate in India has stabilised, teenage pregnancies and early marriages are hindering population control in the country, with over 118 districts in reporting 10 per cent adolescent pregnancy and over 44 per cent of districts recording over 20 per cent women marrying before they reach the age of 18 years.

Though teenage pregnancy has shown a decline in the country, over 118 districts in India still report less than 10 per cent of adolescent pregnancies. These districts are mainly concentrated in Bihar (19) and West Bengal (15), followed by Assam (13), Maharashtra (13), Jharkhand (10), Andhra Pradesh (7), and Tripura (4).

Similarly, over 44 per cent of the districts in India reported over 20 per cent of women marrying before they reach the age of 18 years, according to India's Vision Family Planning 2030 report released on Wednesday. These districts are Bihar (17), West Bengal (8), Jharkhand (7), Assam (4), and two each in Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan and Maharashtra.

The leading cause of concern is that these districts also experience low rates of modern contraceptive use, the report released by Minister of State of Health and Family Planning Bharati Pravin Pawar said. "The fertility rate is stabilising in the country... however, the significant cause of concern is high teenage fertility in some areas," the report said.

Although there has been a steady decline in adolescent childbearing, from 7.9% (National Family Health Survey-4) to 6.8% (NFHS-5), it remains a priority area that requires addressal, especially since India will continue to have one of the youngest populations in the world until 2030, the report highlighted. It added that adolescents and youth remain a concerned area as overall demand for contraception is low in both age groups.

National Herald case: ED quizzes Sonia for 3 hours, no new summons

SUMIT KUMAR SINGH @New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Wednesday questioned Congress president Sonia Gandhi for over three hours on the third day in a money laundering case linked to the National Herald newspaper.

They agency has not issued any fresh summons to the Congress president.

Sonia reached the federal agency's office in central Delhi at 11 am accompanied by her daughter Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and son Rahul Gandhi.

The questioning pertains to the charge of alleged financial irregularities in Congress-promoted Young Indian Private Limited which owns the National Herald newspaper (that is run as a website these days).

Sonia is understood to have stated that no personal assets were made in the Associate Journals Limited (AJL)-Young Indian deal and that the routine affairs were handled by other office-bearers, including late Moti Lal Vora.

Earlier, Congress leaders Pawan Bansal and Mallikarjun Kharge have been questioned by the ED in the past in the same case.

The grand old party had slammed the agency's action against its top leadership and termed it as "political vendetta" and "harassment".

Anticipating protests by Congress workers and possible disruption to the traffic, the Delhi Police deployed a huge force, including CRPF and RAF personnel, and barricaded the over one-kilometre stretch between Sonia's residence on Janpath Marg and the ED office. Traffic restrictions were also imposed in the area.

Earlier, Rahul Gandhi was also questioned by the ED in this case last month in sessions that clocked over 50 hours over five days.

Suspended MPs on 50-hr relay protest

RICHA SHARMA @New Delhi

TWENTY Opposition MPs, who were suspended for disrupting Rajya Sabha proceedings, started a 50-hour relay protest in the Parliament premises, against the order and demand to take up discussion on price rise.

Singing devotional songs and chanting slogans, the MPs — 7 from Trinamool Congress, 6 from DMK, 3 from Telangana Rashtra Samithi, two from CPI (M), one each from CPI and AAP — sat near the Gandhi statue in the Parliament. TMC MP Dola Sen said that the MPs will sit overnight against the suspension and to press for discussion on price rise. While 19 Rajya Sabha MPs were suspended on Tuesday, AAP's Sanjay Singh was suspended on Wednesday for tearing paper and throwing it towards the chair. The Upper House saw repeated adjournment as Singh continued sitting in the House while he was asked to leave the premises. In Lok Sabha, four Congress MPs have also been suspended for flashing placards.

Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallkarjun Kahrge wrote to chairman Venkaiah Naidu raising concern over suspension of MPs and urged that a motion may be moved resolving that the suspension of the members be terminated. Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi said that the suspension of Opposition MPs can be revoked by the Chair if they apologise and assure they would not show placards in the House.

NEW DELHI: Of over 22.05 crore applicants for central government jobs during 2014 and 2022, over 7.22 lakh were recommended by the recruiting agencies, the Lok Sabha was informed on Wednesday Union Minister of State for Personnel Jitendra Singh. "Their suspension can be revoked by the Chair if they apologise and assure that they would not again bring the placards in the House. We have been maintaining that the government is ready for discussion on price rise and on Wednesday, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman resumed her office after recovering from the Covid," said the minister.

Both the houses saw repeated adjournments during the first half as Opposition MPs protested against the suspension of fellow lawmakers. However, during the second half, the Lok Sabha took up the National Anti-Doping Bill, 2021.

In September 2020, eight Opposition Rajya Sabha members sat on an overnight protest in the Parliament lawns after they were suspended for disrupting House proceedings when farm bills were passed. The next morning, Deputy Chairman Harivansh came to meet them with tea and snacks.

UKRAINE LIST

Indian accused of backing Russian side junks charge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

A Ukrainian government body has named three prominent Indians, including former chairman of the National Security Advisory Board (NSAB), accusing them of spreading "Russian propaganda".

"It is too ridiculous to merit comment," said former NSAB chairman P S Raghavan. Names of the former diplomat, veteran journalist Saeed Naqvi and techniocrat Sam Pitroda find a mention in the list.

When contacted, the Ukrainian Embassy in Delhi refrained on commenting on this issue.

The Ukrainian government had set up a body and the list was released on July 14 by the Centre for Countering Disinformation. It was established by Ukrainian President Zelenskyy in 2021.

Since the February 24 invasion of Ukraine by Russian military forces, the centre has published several articles related to the war.

The list titled 'Speakers promoting narratives consonant with Russian propaganda', has over 75 names, ranging from US lawmakers and European politicians to Chinese academics.

Monkeypox: ICMR isolates virus; invites collaboration on vax

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

PUNE-based National Institute of Virology under the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) has successfully isolated the monkeypox virus from the clinical specimen of a patient, paving the way for the development of diagnostic kits and vaccines against the viral disease that was declared a global public health emergency a few days ago by the WHO.

With the virus being isolated, the ICMR has invited expression of interest (EoI) from vaccine and diagnostic kit manufacturers, pharma companies and research and development (R&D) institutions for collaboration in the development of diagnostic kits and vaccine candidates against monkeypox.

The last date of submission is August 10, they said.

Officials said the collaboration would be similar to the way Covid-19 vaccines were jointly developed and manufactured.

The EoI documents state that ICMR is willing to make available monkeypox virus strain/isolates for undertaking R&D as well as manufacturing in public-private partnership mode. The ICMR is "willing to collaborate with experienced vaccine manufacturers as well as in-vitro diagnostics manufacturers on a royalty basis on fixed term contract condition for undertaking R&D and manufacturing activities for joint development and validation of five potential vaccine candidates against monkeypox (and) development of diagnostic kit," it states.

Rainfall down in 5 states in 30 years: Minister

RICHA SHARMA @New Delhi

WITH rise in extreme weather conditions in the country, five states — Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, West Bengal, Meghalaya and Nagaland — have shown significant decreasing trends in southwest monsoon rainfall during the recent 30 years (1989-2018), according to the ministry of earth sciences.

In a written reply to a question in the Lok Sabha on Wednesday, Union Minister of State (Independent Charge) Dr Jitendra Singh, quoting a report released by India Meteorological Department (IMD), said that the annual rainfall in these five states is decreasing along with the states of Arunachal Pradesh and Himachal Pradesh.

The minister said that considering district-wise rainfall, there are many districts in the country, which show significant changes in the southwest monsoon and annual rainfall during the recent 30 years period.

"With regard to the frequency of heavy rainfall days, significant increasing trend has been observed over Saurashtra & Kutch, south-eastern parts of Rajasthan, northern parts of Tamil Nadu, northern parts of Andhra Pradesh and adjoining areas of Southwest Odisha, many parts of Chhattisgarh, Southwest Madhya Pradesh, West Bengal, Manipur & Mizoram, Konkan & Goa and Uttarakhand," he said.

Check posts on Bangla border face land acquisition roadblock

CHANDAN NANDY @New Delhi

NEARLY four years after the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) okayed 10 additional Integrated Check Posts (ICPs) along the India-Bangladesh border, work on seven projects in West Bengal continues to remain stalled because of land acquisition and transfer-related issues.

According to Home Ministry sources, senior officials briefed the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Home Affairs in March this year stating that "despite several requests" to the West Bengal government, "the land for development of ICPs has not yet been transferred to LPAI (Land Ports Authority of India)" for the seven proposed ICPs.

LPAI, set up in 2012 under MHA's Border Management Division, was mandated to "put in place systems which address security imperatives and for the development and management of ICPs". The ICPs, apart from housing regulatory agencies such as Customs, Directorate of Revenue Intelligence, Bureau of Immigration and BSF, are also mandated to provide additional support facilities. While nine ICPs – at Attari and Dera Baba Nanak (Punjab), Agartala and Srimantapur (Tripura), Petrapole (West Bengal), Raxaul and Jogbani (Bihar), Moreh (Manipur) and Sutarkandi (Assam) – are operational since 2012, problems associated with land transfer to LPA by four states (Mizoram, Uttarakhand, Bihar and West Bengal) in the case of 10 additional ICPs have severely delayed their completion.

Of the 10 proposed ICPs, seven — Hili, Changrabandha, Jaigaon, Panitanki, Ghojadanga, Mahadipur and Phulbari – are on the India-Bangladesh border in Bengal. The LPAI, which has been coordinating with the state government, has met with little success in initiating the process of land acquisition.

Following a meeting between Union Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla and Bengal Chief Secretary Hari Krishna Dwivedi in November 2021, several other official level exchanges have failed to expedite the process. "Construction and development of the ICPs can be initiated after land acquisition by the state," an official said.

Construction work at the three check posts in Mizoram (Kawrpuichhuah on Bangladesh border), Uttarakhand (Banbasa, on Nepal border) and Bihar (Bhittamore, on Nepal border) are also behind schedule.

Transfer orders of 59 UP engineers may be cancelled

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

> While the engineers posted at one place for a decade have not been shifted, those who were transferred a few months back have been sent out to new places again
>
> Source

THE controversy over the transfers and postings in the Public Works Department (PWD) of the UP government leading to the removal of cabinet minister Jitin Prasada's OSD and suspension of five other officials is far from over.

Sources said the transfers of 59 engineers are likely to be cancelled as they were done allegedly by flouting the UP government norms.

"More heads are likely to roll as irregularities are coming out. While the engineers posted at one place for a decade have not been shifted, those who were transferred a few months back have been sent out to new places again," said a source.

The CM office cracked the whip on PWD officials, removing Jitin Prasada's OSD Anil Kumar Pandey on July 18 over his alleged role in irregularities, including involvement of money. It was followed by suspension of five officers of the department on July 20.

The CMO had set up a two-member high-level committee comprising Agriculture Production Commissioner Manoj Kumar Singh and Additional Chief Secretary, Agriculture, Devesh Chaturdvedi, to look into the irregularities. The report had indicated anomalies, and established that transfer of 59 officers of Group A and B should have been approved by the Chief Minister and the PWD minister, which was not done. All the 59 postings would be cancelled, sources said.

The report had also recommended a thorough probe into the incidents of attachment of the engineers to PWD headquarters during the last one year.

"It has also recommended fixing the responsibility of those officers who had issued faulty orders to attach engineers to headquarters," said an officer. The report said at least 26 officers of the level of executive engineers or above were not shifted despite being at one place for over three years. Of those 26, at least 12 engineers have been at one place for 10 years, said a source.

On the contrary, 31 officers, shifted recently, were transferred just a few months back. The transfer order of such officers neither refers to any irregularity on their part nor the reason for moving them within months of previous postings.

Bengal: ED finds ₹20 cr cash, again

Counting was going on late at night at second apartment of TMC minister's close aide

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

FIVE days after recovering cash ₹21.90 core from the apartment of Arpita Mukherjee, a close aide of Trinamool Congress minister Partha Chatterjee who was arrested in alleged recruitment scam in schools, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Wednesday found ₹20 crore in cash from another flat in Belgharia near Kolkata owned by the model-actor.

The central agency, which is probing the money trail in the recruitment scam, brought currency counting machines to assess the volume of cash, which is suspected to be proceeds of crime of the alleged irregularities.

ED officials broke open the apartment's door on Wednesday morning and started the search. "The process of counting the currency notes is going on and so far, we counted ₹20 crore. Besides, documents related to properties owned by Arpita were also found," an official said late Wednesday night. The agency also visited Arpita's parental house in Belgharia on Wednesday. It recovered the cash along with jewellery worth ₹74 lakh and foreign currency worth ₹54 lakh from Arpita's house.

The cental agency on Wednesday also questioned Manik Bhattacharya, the TMC MLA from Palashipara, over the alleged malpractice in recruitment in primary schools, the fresh revelation that the ED made after taking Chatterjee and Arpita in custody.

The investigators probing the money trail in the recruitment scam in secondary schools through the School Service Commission (SSC) came to know about a list of 269 names that Chatterjee had allegedly recommended to Bhattacharya, who was also the former president of primary education board, for jobs in primary schools in exchange of money, depriving competent applicants.

"We found four CDs mentioning names of the recommended candidates from the house of Bhattacharya which was raided last week along with 13 other places which include Chatterjee's residence," said an ED official.

The central agency started the probe into the alleged scam in recruitment of teachers and group D staffs through the SSC in high schools but recovery of incriminating documents from Chatterjee's house revealed malpractice in recruitment of teachers in primary schools through Teacher Eligibility Test, said the official.

Sources said the agency is yet to interrogate Chatterjee and Arpita face-to-face.

WEST BENGAL

21 TMC MLAs in touch with me, says Mithun

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

ACTOR-POLITICIAN Mithun Chakraborty, who was BJP's star campaigner in the 2021 Assembly elections, on Wednesday claimed that 38 MLAs of the ruling Trinamool Congress have good relations with the saffron camp and 21 of them are directly in touch with him. He also said that the people of Bengal, one morning, may experience a situation like Maharashtra, with the toppling of the TMC-led government.

Chakraborty held a meeting with BJP MLAs on Wednesday, during which he cited the number of TMC MLAs in touch with him. "Now you calculate our strength," he said.

TMC MP Shantanu Sen rubbished Chakraborty's claim. "He is day dreaming. He has lost his mental balance," Sen said.

Chakraborty himself was a Rajya Sabha MP for the TMC before he switched over to the BJP ahead of the Assembly elections in West Bengal last year, in which the BJP won 77 seats out of 294. After the TMC came to power for the third straight term in Bengal, eight BJP MLAs joined the ruling party. Ahead of the polls, the TMC had witnessed large-scale exodus of MLAs and party functionaries to the BJP, including Subhendu Adhikari, who is the present Leader of Opposition.

Chakraborty's claim is significant in the backdrop of the alleged scam in recruitment in schools, which led to the arrest of Partha Chatterjee, who is TMC's third-in-command, after Mamata Banerjee and her nephew Abhishek Banerjee.

BJP will lose in 2024, but 'don't know how': Didi

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

EVEN as the ruling Trinamool Congress is facing ignominy over the arrest of party leader Partha Chatterjee by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) over an alleged school recruitment scam, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday exuded confidence that the BJP would lose the 2024 Lok Sabha poll. She, however, added, "I don't know how."

Four days after the arrest of Bengal's commerce and industries minister Partha Chatterjee, Mamata, while inaugurating Titagarh Wagon Factory in North 24-Parganas said, "The government at the Centre is more dangerous than the British Raj. I don't know how, but I can say the BJP will not come to power. It will lose the 2024 polls. They also realised it and this is why they are depending on astrology. They are building new buildings (Central Vista). But it will not save them," she said.

Portraying Bengal as a thriving industrial state, Mamata said, "During one of my recent road trips, I saw how Hooghly became an industrial zone. Bengal means business. We have decided to make three dedicated corridors at Dankuni-Kalyani, Dankuni-Haldia and Dankuni-Raghunathpur, where lakhs of jobs will be created. These will connect many south Bengal districts like Howrah, Burdwan, Birbhum and Purulia."

She hit out at the Centre for conducting the raid on Chatterjee's house after midnight. "When you run a big institution, there can be mistakes. If law holds someone guilty, we will punish him. But why was the raid conducted after midnight? The Centre is using agencies to malign the state government," Mamata said without mentioning Chatterjee's name.

RJD seethes as premises of Lalu's associate raided

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

> The CBI has not been able to prove whether any land was taken in exchange for giving any railway job. Bhola Yadav was neither a minister nor a senior officer. He was an OSD to Laluji
>
> Shakti Yadav, RJD spokesperson

THE opposition RJD has hit out at the Modi government following the arrest of former MLA Bhola Yadav, a close aide of Lalu Prasad, in the 'land for rail job' fraud. The ruling BJP and JD-U have played it down.

On Wednesday, CBI and Income Tax officials carried out searches at four locations said to belong to Bhola Yadav in Patna and Darbhanga. The raids were conducted at two locations, including his native village Ganj in Darbhanga.

RJD spokesperson Shakti Yadav called Yadav's arrest as political vendetta. "The CBI has not been able to prove whether any land was taken in exchange for giving any railway job. Bhola Yadav was neither a minister nor a senior officer. He was an officer on special duty to Lalu ji during his tenure as railway minister," said the spokesperson. "His arrest and raids cannot be justified," he added.

Deputy CM and senior BJP leader Tarkishore Prasad said the case is under investigation. BJP leader and road construction minister Nitin Nabin said Central agencies would act against all those who had indulged in corruption. "Central agencies are functioning independently," he said.

JD-U leader and rural development minister Shravan Kumar said law is taking its own course. "If there are allegations against Bhola Yadav, these will be probed," he said.

A caretaker deputed at the residence of Bhola Yadav said that a five-member team had reached the house around 6 am. "The officials asked us to open the rooms. As keys were with a supporter of the party, Lalit Yadav, he was called there," said Prashant, the house caretaker.

"The search continued for almost two hours," he told TNIE. Bhola's residence in Patna and the house belonging to his chartered accountant were also searched. Sources said no incriminating documents were found at Bhola's village.

Known as 'Hanuman of Lalu', Bhola was elected to the assembly in 2015 but lost in the previous election.

Gujarat liquor ban only on paper, shows govt data

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

IN just three days, over 40 people have died after consuming spurious liquor in 'dry Gujarat.' The figures tabled by the government in the Assembly show that prohibition in the state is only on paper.

The government told the Assembly during the budget session this year that liquor worth more than ₹300 crore has been seized in two years. The government data revealed that 40,000 people in Gujarat can legally consume alcohol, with about 16,000 having received their 'health' permits in the past two years.

The toll from illegally traded liquor has caused worries: Over 100 people lost their lives due to spurious liquor in Ahmedabad in 2009 while 25 died similarly in 2016.

Death toll rises to 46

The death toll due to the consumption of spurious liquor in Gujarat has reached 46. Several others have been taken ill, some critically, in Ahmedabad and Botad districts. Meanwhile, the Vadodara rural police on Wednesday nabbed Jatubha Rathod, an accused named in the FIR registered in Botad, who was absconding since the issue came to light on Monday,

Minister of State for Home Harsh Sanghavi revealed these figures in response to questions by Opposition legislators in the state assembly.

"In the last two years, the police confiscated over 1.06 crore bottles of Indian Made Foreign Liquor," said Sanghvi.

Of the 40,000 people who can legally consume alcohol on health grounds, Ahmedabad district accounts for almost 30 per cent of all permits issued (13,034). There are 8,054 health permits in Surat district and 1,989 in Porbandar district. Ahmedabad, Surat, Vadodara, and Rajkot hold 70 per cent of health permits currently.

There are 5,547 visitor permits issued in the state, while the number of tourist permits is 3,729. Residents of Gujarat are allowed to keep and use foreign liquor of Indian origin to maintain their health.

Army Jawan, honey-trapped by two Pakistani women agents, arrested

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

A soldier of the Indian Army posted in Rajasthan was on Tuesday arrested after he was allegedly honey-trapped by two women agents of the Pakistani intelligence agency, ISI, and provided them sensitive information. The Army jawan, Shantimoy Rana, was allegedly in touch with the women for the past two years after they befriended him on social media.

According to Director General Intelligence, Umesh Mishra, espionage activities for Pakistani intelligence agencies are constantly monitored under 'Operation Sarhad', and that is how information was received that Rana (24), a resident of Kanchanpur in Bankura, West Bengal, was in contact with Pakistani women spies. Rana was taken into custody on July 25 and arrested after interrogation.

Assumed Indian names

Shantimoy Rana joined the Army in 2018. "He said one of the Pakistani spies told him that she worked in Military Engineering Services. She gave her name as Gurnoor Kaur alias Ankita. The other spy approached him as Nisha," ADG S. Sengathir said.

Rana joined the Army in March 2018. "During interrogation, he revealed that one of the Pakistani agents had told him that she was working in Military Engineering Services. The first woman had given her name as Gurnoor Kaur alias Ankita, a resident of Shahjahanpur in UP. The other agent approached him as Nisha and said she was working in the Military Nursing Service," Additional Director General S. Sengathir said.

After honey-trapping him, they started asking for photographs of confidential documents related to the Army and videos of exercises through social media. Sengathir added that photos of the two spies are not being made public.

According to sources, Rana came on the radar of intelligence officers about a year ago, and his activities began being monitored. His bank records of the last two-and-a-half years are being examined.

To ensure the smooth running, among other things, the organisers have constructed one of the largest temporary sports infrastructure facilities in the country (can host close to 1000 players at a time) in Mahabalipuram. The torch relay, that was launched by the PM in New Delhi, reached Chennai on Wednesday after traversing close to 20,000km in 40 days. A total of 22,000 police officers and personnel will be deployed in a five-tier security arrangement in the wake of the PM's visit.

The format will be a 11-round Swiss system with teams playing 11 matches (four games constitute a match across as many boards) from July 29 to August 10. The team with the highest number of points will declared winners.

Railway fare cut coming ahead of assembly polls?

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

AFTER stonewalling demands to restore fare concessions to senior citizens and sportspersons that were axed a couple of years ago, the railways could blink — by as early as August 15 or ahead of the year-end Assembly elections in quite a few states. "The railways is considering this," a senior railway official conceded but refused to share details.

Narrow category

Railways now gives fare concession to four categories of persons with disabilities and 11 categories of patients and students

The concession to senior citizens may either be on their journey for medical purposes or pilgrimage. As for sportspersons, it could be on an ad hoc basis depending on their sports related trips initially. When the concessions were withdrawn following the outbreak of Covid in 2020, it led to strong protests from Opposition parties.

But railways minister Ashwini Vaishnaw told the Rajya Sabha that giving concession puts a huge burden on the exchequer. "Cost of granting concessions weighs heavily on Railways. Hence extending the scope of concessions to all categories of passengers including senior citizens is not desirable," he said on July 22. That thought process is under review. "To begin with, the railways may restore concessions to senior citizens in some express trains, which run full round the year as such an arrangement can put less financial burden on the exchequer," a source said.

With arrival of tourists increasing in the Valley, its famed houseboats and conventional hotels have been witnessing near full occupancy. Consequently, the administration is now focusing on tented accommodation and home stays at major tourist attractions to overcome the shortage of hotel rooms. Authorities will push for 50,000 new rooms through the home stay initiative across various tourist destinations by this year-end. The administration has identified 75 locations for this initiative. At present 800 home-stays are registered with the tourism department. All hotels in Srinagar and other destinations in the Valley like Pahalgam, Gulmarg and Sonamarg are witnessing 100 per cent occupancy. Srinagar's houseboats have been having 80 per cent occupancy.

E-rickshaw service a hit with commuters

The e-rickshaw service, which was launched in Srinagar in April, has been gradually spreading to all corners of the city. An e-rickshaw can ferry four people at a time without any negative impact on the environment. The vehicle comes equipped with chargeable lithium batteries. An e-rickshaw takes four hours to charge and gives a mileage of up to 200 km, therefore making it a cheaper alternative to the normal three-wheeler autos. It is also more comfortable for the travellers. People have welcomed the plying of e-rickshaws and demanded that the service should be made available on more routes for the convenience of commuters.

Dubai-based firm holds recruitment drive

Gas prices up as Putin squeezes Europe pipeline

Nord Stream 1 deliveries down to 20% of capacity as Gazprom cuts deliveries by half

BERLIN

GAS prices soared as Russia further slashed its already-low supplies to Europe amid tensions over the war in Ukraine. European gas prices were up almost 2% on Wednesday.

Russian energy giant Gazprom cut gas deliveries via the Nord Stream pipeline on Wednesday to about 20 per cent of its capacity, German authorities said.

Wholesale gas prices in Europe closed at 204.85 euros per megawatt hour — the third highest price on record, the BBC reported. On 8 March, days after the Russian forces invaded Ukraine, the gas prices closed at 210.50 euros per megawatt hour, which is the all-time high.

Gazprom cited the halted operation of one of the last two operating turbines for the pipeline due to the "technical condition of the engine".

The German economy ministry dismissed the explanation, saying there was "no technical reason for a reduction of deliveries". Government spokeswoman Christiane Hoffmann spoke on Wednesday of a "power play" by Moscow.

Klaus Mueller, head of Germany's energy regulator, said gas flows had dropped to 20 percent of the pipeline's capacity on Wednesday from 40 per cent. Soaring energy prices are fueling record inflation, squeezing people's spending power and heightening concerns that Europe could plunge into recession if it does not save enough gas to get through the cold months. That fear led EU governments on Tuesday to agree to reduce natural gas use to protect against further Russian supply cuts. The draft law aims to lower demand for gas by 15% from August through March with voluntary steps. If there aren't enough savings, mandatory cuts would be triggered in the 27-nation bloc.

LANKA CRISIS

Singapore govt extends Gota's stay by another two weeks

SINGAPORE

SINGAPORE has extended a short-stay visa for Sri Lanka's deposed president Gotabaya Rajapaksa, local media in the city-state reported on Wednesday. Rajapaksa fled his country on July 13, after his official residence was stormed by thousands of protesters who had demonstrated for months against the island nation's painful economic crisis.

He first escaped to the Maldives in a military plane and travelled on to Singapore, where he has been staying on a short-term visit pass since July 14. Rajapaksa's 14-day visit pass has been extended, allowing him to stay until August 11, the Straits Times newspaper reported Wednesday, without citing a source.

Singapore's Immigration and Checkpoints Authority told AFP it had no further comment apart from a previous statement that confirmed Rajapaksa was allowed to enter Singapore.

Authorities had earlier said Rajapaksa entered the country on a "private visit" and was not seeking asylum.

Sri Lanka's cabinet spokesperson Bandula Gunawardena told reporters in Colombo on Tuesday that Rajapaksa is not in hiding and is expected to return to his country, but added that the government has not been informed about his travel plans. "He is not in hiding and my understanding is that he will return, but if there is anything to the contrary, the state authorities will inform him and ensure there is no danger for the ex-president," he said.

Protesters blamed Rajapaksa's government for mismanaging the country's finances, with the island nation defaulting on its $51 billion debt.

39 new species discovered in Pacific Ocean

LONDON

SCIENTISTS of the Natural History Museum in London have discovered 39 species that are potentially new to science.

They had sent a robot down to the central Pacific Ocean's Clarion-Clipperton Zone (CCZ) to collect the specimens of creatures there. This is one of the least explored areas of the world.

The robot brought back specimens of 39 previously unknown species of megafauna and nine known species as well. Spindly starfish, tulip-shaped sea sponges, prickly urchins and gummy squirrel sea cucumbers were some of the discovered species.

The Daily Mail quoted Dr Guadalupe Bribiesca-Contreras, the lead author as saying, "This research is important not only due to the number of potentially new species discovered, but because these megafauna specimens have previously only been studied from seabed images."

"Without the specimens and the DNA data they hold, we cannot properly identify the animals and understand how many different species there are," he further said. As per the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, 80% of the ocean is still unexplored. The CCZ spans 5,000 kilometres between Hawaii and Mexico. It is 5,500 metres deep and was discovered in 1950. The region is home to one of the world's largest unexploited collections of rare metals and minerals as well as copper, iron, manganese and nickel.

These metals and minerals are all held in packages of the size of a potato known as polymetallic nodules. They sit on the vast seafloor, and are the targets of deep-sea miners.

The metals are in demand to manufacture batteries for laptops and other equipments and are viewed as a solution to move away from fossil fuels.

However, there are not enough of these metals available to recycle, therefore seabed mining has been suggested as one way to meet this increasing demand.

In a bid to improve relations with Saudi Arabia, the Thai government has decided to resume commercial flights by Thai Airways International to the kingdom after over 30 years. The first flight will depart on August 19 for Jeddah. Activist who sought ban on India flights convicted

A Singaporean activist, who called for a ban on all flights from India last year, has been convicted for an offence under the Public Order Act, according to a media report. Goh Keow Wah, 60, on May 1 last year had carried a placard that read: "Please ban all flights from India, we are not racist! Just being cautious." The activist later posted pictures of his activity on Facebook, The Straits Times reported. Better known as Gilbert Goh, the activist was on Tuesday convicted of one count each of an offence under the Public Order Act outside the Immigration head office last year and for refusing to sign a statement which he had given to the police. He will be sentenced on August 19. The activist held a public assembly to publicise a cause without a permit outside the Immigration and Checkpoints Authority (ICA) building last year

Scandal-hit Credit Suisse appoints new chief executive

ZURICH

SWITZERLAND'S scandal-hit banking giant Credit Suisse said Wednesday it was appointing a new chief executive as higher litigation costs, financial market volatility and rising interest rates worldwide pushed it deeper into the red in the second quarter.

"Our results for the second quarter of 2022 are disappointing, especially in the investment bank division, and were also impacted by higher litigation provisions and other adjusting items," outgoing chief executive Thomas Gottstein said in a statement.

"The bank's performance was significantly affected by a number of external factors, including geopolitical, macroeconomic and market headwinds," said Gottstein, who at the same time announced his resignation at the helm of Switzerland's second-biggest bank.

"Today marks a leadership change for Credit Suisse," said Gottstein, who joined the executive board in 2015 and was appointed CEO in 2020.

"It has been an absolute privilege and honour to serve Credit Suisse over these past 23 years." Gottstein is to be replaced by Ulrich Koerner, currently head of asset management, with effect from August 1. Koerner previously worked at Credit Suisse in different roles between 1998 and 2009 after which he worked at rival bank UBS between 2009 and 2020. The 60-year-old German and Swiss citizen returned to Credit Suisse in 2021.

The bank has been hit by a series of scandals and crises in recent months including the implosions of financial services firms Greensill and Archegos last year which cost Credit Suisse billions.

Turning to its quarterly results, Credit Suisse said it booked net loss $1.65 billion in the period from April to June.

MYSTERIOUS HOLES ON ATLANTIC FLOOR BAFFLE SCIENTISTS

WASHINGTON

SCIENTISTS have come across some flawlessly-aligned, mysterious holes on the seabed, about 1.7 miles below the surface of the Atlantic Ocean.

According to researchers, the presence of these holes have been reported previously from the area but their origin has remained a mystery.

And now, the explorers are seeking the help of Facebook users to tell them about these unique and unexplained indentations.

The scientists wrote on the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Ocean Exploration Facebook page, "Okay Facebookers, time to get out those scientist hats!"

"On Saturday's #Okeanos dive, we observed several of these sublinear sets of holes in the sediment. These holes have been previously reported from the region, but their origin remains a mystery. While they look almost human made, the little piles of sediment around the holes make them seem like they were excavated by... something."

Around 60 Facebook users have commented and gave a wide range of theories for the indentations in the ocean's floor, ranging from aliens, crabs, sediments, mechanical rover.

One user commented that a firm might be conducting sea floor samples which could have resulted in the straight lines and the spacing of the holes. Another user suggested that it could be the work of some type of marine species.

Memes were also shared linking the holes to aliens.

One of the users linked the indentation to the falling of sediment or water flowing up from a crack in a geological shelf or cave roof.

"I suspect either ancient coral or some sedimentary rock structure underneath has a void for which material is being washed out further away. I would start to see if there was any caves or deformation in the seabed," reported Daily Mail.

The Mid-Atlantic Range stretches for 10,000 miles and spans across the north-south of Atlantic ocean, making it the longest mountain range in the world and having the most stunning features.

India strongly condemns the shelling on Iraq

UNITED NATIONS

STRONGLY condemning the recent shelling of a mountain resort in northern Iraq, India has said the UN Security Council needs to address the concerns raised by the Iraqi foreign minister that Turkish forces committed an open and blatant aggression against his country's sovereignty.

Addressing an emergency session of the UN Security Council on Tuesday on the attacks in Dohuk, UN Ambassador R Ravindra said New Delhi strongly condemns the recent shelling in the Zakho district of Dohuk Governorate.

'On behalf of the government...of India, I express our deepest condolences to the families, who lost their loved ones ...and also wish a speedy recovery to those injured,' he said.

Ravindra further said peace, stability and security in the region were of utmost importance to India.

Turkey, on the other hand has denied it was behind the attack and blamed fighters from the Kurdistan Workers Party, or PKK, which is considered a terrorist organisation by Ankara and the West. PTI

Pentagon draws up contingency plan for Pelosi's Taiwan trip

US officials say they have little fear that China would attack Nancy Pelosi's plane if she flies to Taiwan. But the US House speaker would be entering one of the world's hottest spots where a mishap, misstep or misunderstanding could endanger her safety. So the Pentagon is developing plans for any contingency

HEAVY SECURITY COVER IN PLACE

The US would have to be prepared for any incident, even an accident either in the air or on the ground. Officials said the US would need to have rescue capabilities nearby and suggested that could include helicopters on ships already in the area

Officials have declined to provide details, but said that fighter jets, ships, surveillance assets and other military systems would likely be used to provide overlapping rings of protection for her flight to Taiwan and any time on the ground there

BIDEN-XI TALKS

Pelosi's potential visit to Taiwan is likely to dominate a phone call between Chinese President Xi Jinping and Joe Biden, which the US president expects will take place this week

CHINA WARNS OF FORCEFUL RESPONSE

Beijing objects to all official contact between Taipei and Washington, and routinely threatens retaliation. This time, the stakes appear to be higher

China is warning it will respond forcefully if US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi proceeds with a visit to Taiwan, the self-governing island democracy it claims as its own territory

WHAT'S PELOSI'S BUSINESS IN TAIWAN

Taiwan enjoys strong bipartisan support in Congress, and Pelosi said last week it was "important for us to show support for Taiwan"

Imran's ally sworn in as Pak Punjab's CM

ISLAMABAD

PML-Q leader Chaudhry Parvez Elahi was sworn in as chief minister of Punjab by Pakistan President in a boost to ousted premier Imran Khan whose party approached a top court seeking dismissal of PM Shehbaz Sharif's government.

A three-member bench — comprising Chief Justice Umar Ata Bandial, Justice Ijazul Ahsan and Justice Muneeb Akhtar ruled that Pakistan Muslim League-Quaid (PML-Q) leader Elahi will be the new chief minister of Punjab, paving the way for a change in the country's most populous province and political heartland.

Elahi, who lost the election despite getting a majority vote, had challenged the ruling of deputy speaker Dost Muhammad Mazari who handed victory to Hamza.

He lost after Deputy Speaker Mazari rejected 10 votes of his PML-Q lawmakers.

Mazari refused to count the vote after PML-Q chief Chaudhry Shujaat Hussain.

The apex court declared Mazari's controversial decision to reject 10 votes as 'illegal'.

It ordered Punjab Governor Baligh ur Rehman to administer the oath to Elahi. However, Rehman refused to perform his duties.

Following Rehman's refusal, Elahi left for Islamabad where he was sworn in as the chief minister by President Arif Alvi at the Aiwan-e-Sadar in the early hours of Wednesday. PTI

Setback for Russia as Ukraine damages key bridge

KYIV

UKRAINIAN artillery on Wednesday struck a key bridge in Moscow-controlled territory in south Ukraine, damaging an important supply route as Kyiv's forces look to wrest back the Kherson region.

The strike on the Antonivskiy bridge over the Dnipro river came hours ahead of the opening in Istanbul of a joint observation centre to monitor Ukrainian grain exports that have been blocked by the Kremlin's warships.

German authorities said Russian energy giant Gazprom had drastically cut gas deliveries to Europe via the Nord Stream pipeline to about 20 percent of capacity, after the European Union agreed a plan to slash its usage this winter.

Kirill Stremousov, the deputy head of the Russian-installed regional administration in Kherson, confirmed the bridge had been hit overnight and traffic had been halted.

But he sought to downplay the damage, insisting that the attack would not affect the outcome of the hostilities "in any way."

"The special military operation is continuing," Stremousov said in a video posted on social media, using the Kremlin's preferred term to refer to their invasion.

Ukrainian forces in recent weeks have been clawing back territory in the Kherson region, which fell to Russian forces easily and early after their invasion launched on February 24. Their counter-offensive supported by Western-supplied long-range artillery has seen its forces push closer to Kherson city, which had a pre-war population of under 300,000 people. Ukrainian officials in the region have said their forces in the Black Sea region have changed tack, from defensive to offensive and that Kherson will "definitely" be liberated by the end of September.

Russian forces "should leave Kherson while it is still possible. There may not be a third warning," Ukrainian presidential advisor Mykhaylo Podolyak said on Twitter after the attack. Later Wednesday, the UN and Turkey are due to open a joint centre with Russia and Ukraine in Istanbul to coordinate the resumption of grain deliveries.

5G auction sees bids worth ₹1.49 lakh crore on Day 2

Analysts believe Reliance Jio will emerge the most aggressive bidder

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIA'S largest-ever auction of 5G spectrum received bids worth ₹1.49 lakh crore after nine rounds on the second day, said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said on Wednesday.

The minister expressed happiness over the good competition that is being seen in the auction and competition for all bands. "I am happy to see good competition in auction, good competition for all bands have come, in particular for the 700 MHz band, which did not find any takers in the last two auctions held in 2016 and 2021. This band is important for coverage of far-flung areas," said the minister.

The second day of the auction started at 10 am and ended at 6 pm with nine rounds of bidding. On the first day of the auction, the government had received spectrum bids worth ₹1.45 lakh crore after the completion of four rounds of spectrum bidding. "The sector (telecom) is coming with new energy, and that is reflected in response to 5G auctions," said Vaishnaw.

Analysts believe Ambani's Reliance Jio will be the most aggressive of those in the race. According to ICICI Securities, Jio is likely to bid for the highest spectrum worth ₹80,100 crore, and expected to opt for 10MHz spectrum in the premium 700 MHz band.

ON THE BLOCK

July 27: The second day of the auction started at 10 am and ended at 6 pm with nine rounds of bidding for the spectrum

July 26: On the first day of the 5G auction, the government had received bids worth ₹1.45 lakh crore after the completion of four rounds of spectrum auction

Adani has bought 26GHz spectrum in 20 circles (except in Delhi and Kolkata), and its total spectrum purchase could be 3350MHz for ₹900 crore. Cash-strapped Vodafone Idea is likely to bid for spectrum worth ₹18,400 crore.

The government has put on sale 72 GHz of 5G airwaves across 10 bands worth ₹4.3 lakh crore at base price. India's largest telecom operator Reliance Jio has made a ₹14,000-crore earnest money deposit (EMD), Bharti Airtel has put in ₹5,500 crore and debt-laden Vodafone Idea has deposited ₹2,200 crore in EMD. Interestingly, cash-rich Gautam Adani –led Adani Data Network put in only ₹100 crore.

The EMD indicates the maximum quantity of airwaves a company can bid for in the auction, usually companies can bid 8-10x of the EMD amount.

The spectrum auction will pave the way for the roll-out of 5G services with ultra-high speeds (about 10 times faster than 4G), lag-free connectivity, and can enable billions of connected devices to share data in real-time.

Maruti net up, Tata Motors loss widens

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

TWO of India's largest automakers reported very contrasting numbers for the quarter ended June 2022 (Q1FY2023).

Country's largest carmaker-Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) on Wednesday reported a 130% year-on-year (YoY) surge in net profit at ₹1,012.80 crore, while home-grown auto-major Tata Motors' consolidated losses widened to ₹5,006.60 crore in Q1FY2023 compared with ₹1,032.84 crore loss in March quarter (Q4FY2022) and ₹4,450.92 crore loss in the year-ago quarter(Q1FY2022).

Analysts at large were expecting Tata Motors to report ₹1,200-1,700 crore loss during the quarter but Tata Motors' once again surprised everyone as its British subsidiary Jaguar Land Rover (JLR) remains a laggard. Tata Motors group chief financial officer P B Balaji said the loss recorded in the quarter was due to JLR as the other two businesses -- CV (Commercial Vehicle) and PV (Passenger Vehicle) -- were making operating profit.

JLR posted revenue of 4.4 billion pound in the first quarter, down 7.6% from the fourth quarter of FY22, impacted by supply challenges including semiconductor shortages. JLR's loss before tax in the quarter was £524 million and its EBIT margin stood at minus 4.4%. It sold 78,825 vehicles in the June quarter, down 37% compared with the April-June period of last fiscal.

On a standalone basis, Tata Motors reported a net loss of Rs 181 crore from a net loss of ₹1,321 crore in the year-ago period and revenue revenue from operations more than doubled to ₹14,874 crore. Tata Motors' consolidated revenue for the quarter rose 8.68% YoY to ₹71,227.76 crore. Maruti Suzuki also missed the street estimate as analysts at large were expecting the carmaker to report a PAT of around ₹1,500 crore. The increase in prices of commodities adversely impacted the operating profit of MSIL.

Cross DGCA reduces SpiceJet's flights by half

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) on Wednesday put SpiceJet under 'enhanced surveillance' and cut the budget carrier's summer schedule by half for eight weeks. The move comes after reviewing the Ajay Singh-promoted airline's reply to the show-cause notice served by the aviation regulator over alarmingly high mid-air technical glitches that risked the safety of passengers.

"In view of the findings of various spot checks, inspections, and reply to the show cause notice... the number of departures of the airline is hereby restricted to 50%," the order read.

SpiceJet had reported multiple incidents between April 1 and July 5. The DGCA noted that on a number of occasions, the aircraft either turned back to its originating station or proceeded to the destination with "degraded safety margins".

SpiceJet said the restriction will neither impact its operations not result in flight cancellations. The carrier is currently operating around 300 flights a day, which translates into 50% of its approved 4,192 flights/week for the summer season.

BSNL gets ₹1.64L crore booster dose

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday approved a ₹1.64 lakh crore package for state-owned Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL), in a bid to turn around the loss-making telecom operator. The money will be used to de-stress BSNL's balance sheet, expand fibre reach and improve service quality, telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw told reporters after the meeting.

The Cabinet also cleared the proposal to merge Bharat Broadband Network Ltd (BBNL) with BSNL to facilitate wider utilisation of infrastructure. "This revival package is for four years and the main work will be done in the next two years," Vaishnaw said adding BSNL will turn profitable within four years.

The government will allot 900/1800 MHz band spectrum worth ₹44,993 crore to BSNL through equity infusion. This will help BSNL expand its 4G services. The minister said BSNL is in the process of deploying Atmanirbhar 4G technology stack. The government will help the telco meets its projected capital expenditure for the next four years and fund capex of ₹22,471 crore. Another ₹13,789 crore will be provided as viability gap funding for commercially unviable rural wire-line operations done between 2014-15 and 2019-20.

The authorised capital of BSNL will be increased from ₹40,000 crore to ₹1.5 lakh crore in lieu of adjusted gross revenue dues, provision of capex and allotment of spectrum. To de-stress BSNL's balance sheet, the government will provide sovereign guarantee for the telco to raise long-term loans. Subsequently, BSNL will be able to raise long-term bonds for ₹40,399 crore. BSNL's AGR dues of ₹33,404 crore will also be settled by conversion into equity.

BSNL had suffered ₹50,631 crore losses in the past five years.

Colgate reports 10% fall in net profit in Q1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FMCG major Colgate-Palmolive India on Wednesday reported a 10.1% decline in net profit at ₹209.67 crore for the quarter ended June 30 as compared to ₹233.23 crore in the same period a year ago.

This is owing to the inflationary pressures and rural slowdown, Colgate-Palmolive India (CPIL) said in a regulatory filing. The company's revenue for the June quarter stood at ₹ 1,196.8 crore, moving up 2.6% from ₹1,166 crore in the same period last year.

CPIL's total expenses also rose 6.95% to ₹916.60 crore in the quarter under review, as against ₹856.99 crore in the same quarter a year ago.

Mukul Deoras, Chairman of Colgate-Palmolive (India), said, "The current quarter continued to witness challenging trends that we saw in the previous quarter. While we remain cautiously optimistic that the trends will improve in the coming quarters, the current quarter was impacted by overall rural slowdown and inflationary pressures."

"Our overall pricing strategy and strong funding of the growth programs delivered consistent margins while we continue to maintain our strong investment in innovation and brand building activities."

High raw material inflation has not only adversely impacted margins for FMCG companies but it has also slowed down demand conditions in rural & semi-urban regions as consumers are down trading towards smaller SKUs & economy brands, say analysts at brokerage firm ICICI Securities.

GSTAT FORMATION

Committee on GST tribunal to meet on Aug 17

MONIKA YADAV @ NewDelhi

THE Group of Ministers (GoM), headed by Haryana Deputy Chief Minister Dushyant Chautala, will meet on August 17 again to finalise its recommendations on formation of GST Appellate Tribunal (GSTAT) at the national and state level, as per sources.

It had its first online meet on July 26 and now the physical meeting will be held in mid-August but the venue hasn't yet been decided, the sources said. "Only after the submission of GoM reports on GSTAT and online gaming, casinos, the next GST Council meet will be organised," said one of the sources privy to the matter.

The panel had to submit its report by July 31, but due to some contentious issues related to number of technical and judicial members in each tribunal, there is a disagreement among members of the panel.

Earlier, Madras high court had issued a stay on the issue of the number of technical members in the tribunal, though Centre had notified GSTATs just after the GST law came into effect.

PAYTM MALL DENIES 3.4 MILLION USERS' DATA BREACH

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

TWO years after Paytm Mall, the ecommerce arm of Paytm, reportedly suffered a data breach, Firefox Monitor, an online service developed by Mozilla, has confirmed the data breach on its website.

However, Paytm Mall denied the breach and said the data of its users are "completely safe".

In August 2020, a report claimed that 3.4 million accounts were compromised during the breach. At that time, Paytm Mall denied claims and said there was no hack at all. But again, on Tuesday, Firefox Monitor cites data breach and said, "Once the breach was discovered and verified, it was added to our database on July 26, 2022."

Phone numbers, email addresses, date of birth, genders, income levels and geographic locations are said to be compromised. Firefox Monitor said the breach data was provided by Have I Been Pwned, a website that allows one to search across multiple breaches.

On Twitter, Have I Been Pwned said data covered 3.4 million unique email addresses and 77% were already in @haveibeenpwned.

Firefox Monitor said a web site data breach happens when cyber criminals steal, copy or expose personal information from online accounts. It can sometimes take months or years for credentials exposed in a data breach to appear on the dark web.

Breaches get added to its database as soon as they have been discovered and verified, Firefox Monitor said.

Strongly denying the breach, Paytm Mall spokesperson said the data of its users is completely safe and claims related to data leak in the year 2020 are completely false and unsubstantiated.

"A fake dump uploaded on the platform haveibeenpwned.com appears to wrongly alert of a data breach on Firefox browser. We are getting in touch with Firefox and the platform to resolve the matter," the spokesperson said.

Sindhu & Manpreet to be India's flagbearers at CWG

India has decided to hand over the flag to PV Sindhu to lead the Indian contingent at the CWG Opening Ceremony on Thursday evening. She replaces Neeraj, who pulled out on Monday. According to the IOA, it is an endeavour to promote gender equality in adherence to the Olympic Charter. Hockey captain Manpreet Singh was named the other flagbearer.

Remembering Rafique — India's 1st Chess Olympiad medallist

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

MOHAMMAD Rafique Khan is a name that has quietly faded in the annals of history. There is hardly any trace of him, not even in the book of chess legacy of the country. Rafique used to help his carpenter father in the morning before going out and watching local chess players in action at the narrow bylanes of Bhopal. It was there he learnt the sport before taking the national circuit by storm. He then created history by becoming the first Indian to win an Olympiad medal.

What's worse when India is hosting the Chess Olympiad for the first time, Rafique will not be there to watch and savour. He passed away on July 19, 2019. However, his teammate Rajesh Bahadur and youngest son Mohammad Rais Khan shared his story with this newspaper highlighting how he went on to become the national chess champion and followed it up with a silver medal in the Olympiad.

"He never had formal education. Instead, he used to help his carpenter father. After getting free, he used to visit a nearby tea stall where chess aficionados were involved in board games. It's there he developed an interest in chess," Bahadur, who is vice-president of the disbanded Madhya Pradesh Chess Association, said.

His immense interest meant he grew by leaps and bounds in just a few years and competed in the MP chess championship for the first time in 1975. The maiden outing ended in a title triumph as he outwitted renowned chess players including Syed Nawab Ali (who represented India in the Varna Olympiad and Bahadur. Earlier in those days, two nationals — National 'A' and 'B' — used to be held wherein the latter served as the qualifier for the former. Rafique qualified for the National 'A' in 1975 itself and finished fifth in the event.

"Next year in 1976, he created a record in Kolkata, which is still intact as far as I know. While competing in National 'B', he registered 11 straight wins and drew the next four games winning the championship. He eventually became the national champion in 1978 when he won the National 'A' held in Cochin," added Bahadur.

Rafique was an introvert and never spoke a lot about his achievements, said his son Rais. "He spoke to us about chess on a very few occasions. We used to hear the stories from his friends and chess lovers of the city," he added.

Mohammad Rafique Khan became the first Indian to win an Olympiad silver in 1980

With Rafique excelling with his show at the national level, he was employed by Bhopal Municipal Corporation. However, he had to quit the job as the employer didn't give him leave to participate in the tournaments. It was then the central government came to his rescue and offered him a job at BHEL (Bharat Heavy Electricals Limited) in 1977. "We still have a letter from then industry minister George Fernandes. A job with BHEL gave him financial security and freedom to compete in chess tournaments," said Rais.

The stability paid huge dividends as Rafique participated in Malta Olympiad in 1980. "That win gave a huge fillip to the sport in the country as nobody thought earlier that a chess player from the country could win an individual medal in the Olympiad," opined Bahadur. Secretary of the now defunct MP Chess Association Kapil Saxena said Rafique was a fatherly figure to all the budding chess players from the state.

"Even the night he passed away, he played chess at the club that he used to visit regularly. Despite achieving so much, he did not get what he deserved but he never complained about anything. In fact, he kept giving back to the sport in whatever way he can," said Saxena.

He might not be a conventional chess player and learned the game his own way but the heights he achieved despite those shortcomings are hard to scale even these days. Undoubtedly, Rafique will be missed bigtime when the mega event begins in the country with players of repute from across the globe gracing the occasion with their presence.

OLYMPIAD AMID CRISIS

Concerns and conflicts in their minds, foreign players set for Chennai test

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

KIRILL Shevchenko hid in a subway to escape Russian missiles in February. His family and he have since relocated to Germany. Shevchenko will be in Chennai, representing Ukraine. Alina Kashlinskaya, one among 44 Russian chess players to sign a 'stop the war' letter before sending it to Vladimir Putin, quit the federation.

At the Olympiad, she will represent Poland in the women's section (her husband, Radoslaw Wojtaszek, is part of the men's team). On Twitter, Carissa Yip, has been posting crucial resources on what next after the US Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade. Yip, 18, like millions of other women across the US, focussed her efforts in urging people to donate for abortion funding. She will be a part of the US women's team. Sachini Ranasinghe had to rely on a mobile phone-turned Wi-Fi hotspot during multiple online training sessions because of power cuts in Sri Lanka. Ricko Depaune, down with Covid-19 just a month ago as Nauru faced its first wave, chugged on, meeting teammates for online sessions. A Covid-19 lockdown meant he couldn't see his teammates for the last month. In Chennai, he will be on Board 1.

As the coastal tourist town of Mahabalipuram gets ready to welcome royalty for the game's biggest showpiece — the Olympiad is chess' equivalent of the World Cup — the first paragraph is a grim reminder of the human cost of 2022. Civil war, conflict, a court judgment, invasion, Covid-19... societies across the world are facing significant challenges and some of the biggest chess names on the planet have not been spared.

In a grim, moving portrayal of what it was to escape Kyiv, Shevchenko painted a vivid picture in an interview with the 'Perpetual Chess Podcast'. "The first day we just were sitting, maybe like we had some fear. Of course we didn't sleep at all. The next day we decided to leave Kiev because, about half kilometre from me, we heard about again an explosion and the rocket hit the house (...) that was really scary because we were very lucky that rocket doesn't hit our house, because it would be not possible to be alive after that. (...) we decided, "okay, we have to leave Kyiv." In another part of Ukraine, Oleksandr Sulypa, Open team captain, took a gun to stand guard next to a heavily barricaded road.

While that was going on in Ukraine, some of the leading Russian players were brave enough to put their names next to a letter condemning the government's actions. One of them, Kashlinskaya, will be wearing a Pole jersey. "I have been living in Poland for seven years already, also last year I got Polish citizenship. So, my decision was very natural," Kashlinskaya, one of the highest-rated active women's players, told this daily. "Also, I have a lot of friends in the Polish chess community, so the integration to the team was not a problem for me."

Ranasinghe acknowledges the problems her country is going through at the moment. "There is a crisis going on but we are doing okay as a team I guess," she told this newspaper before leaving for the Olympiad. "During the power cut, we make our phones into hotspots for Wi-Fi. (When we have power), we charge our laptops. We have power cuts for 2.5 to 3 hours a day." Even if parts of the country were facing 10-hour power cuts because of a shortage of resources, her situation was marginally better as she stayed next to a hospital.

Depaune thanked his lucky stars when he managed his bout of Covid-19 without going to a hospital. Even then, he was convinced that Nauru would miss the Olympiad bus because of the lockdown. Depaune, who doubles up as general secretary of the Nauru Chess Federation, had told this daily: "(...) when the lockdown commenced, I thought we wouldn't make it to Chennai. But the government helped us. Securing a visa to Australia is quite hard but we have got it."

Afghanistan, another country that's seen better days, is sending a team. One of its members, Sepehr Sakhawaty, posted a poignant post on Instagram that reflected his feeling. "I feel proud to fight for pride for my beloved country and beautiful flag despite the current difficult situation."

Ultimately, that's what will drive the 1600 or more players over the next two weeks or so. Fighting for their country. Even if it's fighting with itself.

Neymar to stand trial for Barcelona transfer

AP @Barcelona

BRAZIL forward Neymar will stand trial in Spain a month before the World Cup for alleged irregularities involving his transfer to Barcelona in 2013. Neymar's parents, former Barcelona president Sandro Rosell and both the club and Brazilian team Santos are also set to go on trial after a complaint brought by Brazilian investment group DIS regarding the amount of the player's transfer.

The trial is scheduled to start on October 17, nearly a month before the World Cup opens on November 21 in Qatar. Neymar and his father, who is also his agent, face corruption charges and a prison sentence of up to two years, which would not likely carry any prison time. They also face a fine of 10 million euros ($10.1 million). Rosell faces five years in prison for fraud and corruption charges, plus a fine of 10 million euros ($10.1 million).

DIS was entitled to 40% of Neymar's transfer but said it received a smaller compensation because part of the transfer fee was concealed.

Prosecutors said those involved tried to hide the real amount of the transfer in order to pay a lower commission to the investment group. Neymar and the others have denied wrongdoing. Neymar and his father previously appeared in court in Madrid a few years ago because of the accusations.

Santos officially received 17.1 million euros (now $17.3 million) for Neymar's transfer to Barcelona, but prosecutors said the total amount paid by the Spanish club was 25.1 million euros (now $25.4 million), meaning DIS would be entitled to an additional 3.2 million euros ($3.3 million).

Prosecutors said the difference comes from payments made by Barcelona for the future acquisitions of other players, as well as partnerships for friendly matches between the clubs.

According to court documents, DIS paid 5 million reals (now $940,000) for 40% of Neymar's rights in 2009.

For cricket, a chance to go global at Birmingham Commonwealth Games

GOMESH S @Chennai

WHEN Indian captain Harmanpreet Kaur was asked about taking part in the Birmingham Commonwealth Games, staying along with a bigger contingent from the country across disciplines, she said that just thinking about it gave her gooseflesh. And it's not just Harmanpreet, this has been the general sentiment across the other teams as cricket would be making a comeback after 24 years(1998 games had men's List-A matches) in the multi-sport event.

As for the women, it would be their first major tournament apart from the ICC ODI and T20 World Cups they get to play. "If I speak about myself, we have grown watching these kinds of tournaments and we are glad that we are also getting an opportunity. We will be part of a big event," Harmanpreet had said before leaving for England.

And it's not just about getting to feature in a multisport event for the first time. There are quite a few cricketers, especially from Australia and New Zealand, who are in some way connected to other sports and athletes from other disciplines. For example, New Zealand superstar Suzie Bates was a part of her country's basketball team in the 2008 Beijing Olympics. This time, she will be with the New Zealand contingent — albeit as a cricketer — that would be fielding a team in the 3x3 basketball events.

"It was a great experience as a 19-year-old to be at the Olympics, experience the games and be around all the best athletes in the world. So, yeah, pretty lucky to be able to have got to the Olympic games and now we have an opportunity to go with cricket at the Commonwealth Games," Bates told White Ferns.

Meanwhile, Australian vice-captain Rachael Haynes has reunited with her former work colleague Barrie Lester — a three-time CWG medallist and a champion international lawn and indoor bowler — who would be taking part in the Lawn bowls event.

Before Cricket Australia brought in the central contracts, Haynes used to work at Bowls Australia over a decade ago along with Lester. "I was still in the national team playing for Australia at that time, and so was he. We used to share stories back in the office when we were working and we travelled around the country working on bowls tournaments as well. It was really nice to see him again," Haynes said.

Pakistan will have their moment to savour as their captain Bismah Maroof, who made a comeback in the World Cup earlier this year after having a baby, is named as the flagbearer of their contingent along with wrestler Muhammed Inam for the opening ceremony Thursday. The other important thing is that there is no West Indies in the CWG. Instead, Barbados, who won the 2019 regional domestic competition in the Caribbean, would be taking part in the event, with the newly appointed West Indies captain Hayley Matthews leading them in Birmingham.

Apart from this, the Birmingham games could be seen as a crucial moment as it would help women's sport reach a much broader audience than ever; something all the eight captains have acknowledged. "As a cricketer, we always want to play more cricket and this year we are getting to participate in a multi-sport event. So, when you go for a big-event it is important to perform well, the more we get such tournaments, it is good for women's cricket," Harmanpreet had said. And, the way the tournament goes could also prove vital as ICC pushes for the sport's inclusion in the 2028 Los Angeles Olympics.

Although in the T20 format any team could beat anyone on a given day, once again, it seems like England and Australia are the favourites to finish at the top. If some other country, especially India, manages to rise to the occasion and steal the goal despite the challenges, in many ways it could be a watershed moment for women's sport, not just in the country, but across the globe.

Delhi HC clears Jasleen to compete

AGENCIES @Birmingham

IN a big boost to India's judo contingent, the Delhi High Court on Wednesday cleared Jasleen Singh of all misconduct charges, paving the way for his participation at the Commonwealth Games.

"The High Court has given a decision in favor of Jasleen and he will now travel to Birmingham," said IOA secretary general Rajeev Mehta.

A gold medallist at the Commonwealth Championships held here two years ago, Jasleen along with his roommate, were embroiled in a controversy after they were involved in a brawl with a group of Spanish women during their month-long training-cum-exposure trip in June in Alicante, Benidorm.

While the duo was given a "clean chit" by the group of women the next day, the federation, which is run by administrator Justice Pankaj Naqvi, called them back as a "precautionary measure".

"But as it turned out the duo was not involved and another group was involved in the brawl. The women had also given clean chits and there was no police complaint against them," a coach said.

MONIKA MONALISA

UPON visiting Bengaluru for the second time, Dr U Moe Kyaw Aung, Ambassador of Myanmar, was spending quality time in the city which was long overdue. Aung, who is here on a three-day tour, says, "My first visit was only for a few hours since we immediately left for Hampi. I have heard so much about Bengaluru, so I always wanted to be here."

In honour of the Ambassador's visit, a special evening was hosted by Vinod Hayagriv, managing director of C Krishniah Chetty Group of Jewellers. It is quite common to hear from jewellery lovers about their fondness for Burmese rubies, and it's safe to say that every lady's jewel box contains at least one ornament studded with this precious stone. Aung takes pride in coming from the land of rubies, and says he learnt even more about different gems in Bengaluru.

"Even though Myanmar is known for its rubies, I learnt about gemology here and saw many different kinds of precious stones," says Aung, who was accompanied by his wife, Nilar Aung.

Aung finds the similarities between India and Myanmar to be uncanny, owing to the long and shared history. "The cultural, commercial, and traditional history of India and Myanmar goes back over 100 years. We have been trading with India since the Chola empire. Also, the majority of our people are Buddhist, which is a religious and cultural identity we share with India. Bollywood is also quite popular in Myanmar," says Aung, adding that Indians aren't considered foreigners in Myanmar.

Apart from rubies, Indians also flaunt Burmese teak. The Chettinad region is well-known for elaborate designs. Burmese architecture, Aung says, is quite similar to Indian architecture but is also unique, and teak wood work is an area where Burmese craft finds its own identity. "During the reign of the Konbaung dynasty, a lot of buildings were made out of teak wood. The quality of Burmese teak is very good, which makes the buildings last for long periods, without any damage," says Aung.

The Ambassador has been living in New Delhi for the last four-and-a-half years and feels at home, especially with the food. "Indian cuisine somehow reminds me of home. You will be surprised to know that Indian food is commonly available in our country. We love curries, biryani, and samosa. South Indian biryani is considered the best in Myanmar," he laughs, as he points at Mir Najaf Ali Khan, grandson of last Nizam of Hyderabad, who sat across the table from him.

FIT BIT

KATICHAKRASANA
(STANDING SPINAL TWIST POSE)

It is a standing spinal twisting pose where the trunk rotates both sides. It cures stiff back & hips, and increases movability along with suppleness and flexibility. Practitioners can perform it after a stressful asana to relax their body and as a warm-up exercise.

STEPS

- Start by standing straight, feet together, and spine erect i.e. in simple Tadasana (Mountain Pose). Divide your weight evenly on both feet.
- Spread your legs at a shoulder-width distance with inhalation.
- Stretch your arms forward in front of the chest. It's the centre position. Here, palms should be facing each other and hands at the shoulder-width distance, parallel to the floor.
- From here, twist your trunk from the waist toward the right with a gentle exhalation. Fix your gaze towards the right shoulder and keep twisting further with breathing out.
- After a complete twist on the right side, inhale, free the twist lock, and come to the center position.
- Again, with an exhalation, repeat on the left side and come back to the center with inhalation.
- Hold this pose for 20 seconds on each side and repeat each side at least 10 times. Then come to the centre. Stand straight and breathe.

BENEFITS

- Regular practice reduces signs of stress.
- Loosens up the tissues to improve flexibility along with strengthening.
- Restores the depleted and blocked pranic energy, which positively affects bronchial asthma.
- Makes the rigid shoulders joints soft and supple, which helps in 'Frozen shoulder.'
- Makes other bending and twisting asanas easier.
- Helpful in managing weight and diabetes.
- The swinging movements help overcome constipation.
- Improves the blood circulation in the trunk and respiratory indexes.
- Simulates the Manipura (Solar Plexus) Chakra primarily responsible for the digestive function.

LIMITATIONS

While twisting, don't rapidly jerk as it can overstretch knees.

People with high blood pressure shouldn't do this asana at high speed.

Don't practise this asana during pregnancy, or if you have spinal injury or sciatica.

SEEING EYE TO EYE

If your blood glucose stays high over time, it can damage the tiny blood vessels in the back of your eyes

DR MINIJA C K

IT is well known that diabetes can affect your eyes and lead to various complications, including blindness. Precisely because of this, it is important to understand diabetes and diabetic eye disease, how they occur and what the prevention and treatment strategies are.

Consequences

If your blood glucose stays high over time, it can damage the tiny blood vessels in the back of your eyes. Damaged blood vessels may leak fluid and cause swelling. New, weak blood vessels may also begin to grow. These blood vessels can bleed into the middle part of the eye, lead to scarring, or cause dangerously high pressure inside your eye. A frequent result of high blood sugar is diabetic eye disease, which is a group of eye conditions that result from diabetes.

High blood sugar can lead to problems like cataracts, macular oedema, glaucoma, and diabetic retinopathy. Cataracts progress faster in people with diabetes due to high sugar in the blood and this creates a hazy build-up in the eye's lens that results in cataract. Another consequence that results from diabetes is macular oedema, in which the macula – the centre of the retina that provides sharp vision – swells up due to leaky blood vessels caused by diabetes. This results in blurred vision.

Diabetic retinopathy is an eye condition that can cause vision loss in people who have diabetes. It affects blood vessels in the retina. If you have diabetes, it's important to get a dilated eye exam once a year. Diabetic retinopathy may not have symptoms at first – but finding it early can help you take steps to protect your vision.

Prevention

Managing your sugar levels, blood pressure and cholesterol levels can go a long way in preventing diabetes-related eye problems. The key factor in preventing diabetic eye disease is keeping your sugar levels under control. You can do this by getting regular physical activity, eating healthy, and following your doctor's instructions for your medicines.

Treatment

In the early stages of diabetic retinopathy, your doctor will keep track of how your eyes are doing. Some people with diabetic retinopathy may need a comprehensive dilated eye exam every 2 to 4 months. In advanced stages, if vision is affected, it will be treated by injection of medicine inside the eye or laser treatment. In case of bleeding inside the eye, you may have to undergo surgery.

In conclusion, it can be said that it is important to consult your doctor in case you experience problems with your eyes and you are not aware that you have been afflicted by diabetes. There needs to be greater awareness about diabetic eye and its consequences. Early detection and treatment can go a long way in preventing the eyes from getting damaged.

Smoking, vaping spiked severe Covid complications, death risk

People who reported smoking or vaping prior to their hospitalisation for Covid-19 were more likely to experience complications, including death, from the SARS-CoV-2 infection, finds a study. The findings, published in the journal PLOS ONE, indicate smoking or vaping are associated with more severe Covid-19 independent of age, sex, race or medical history. People who reported smoking were 45 per cent more likely to die and 39 per cent more likely to receive mechanical ventilation when compared with those who did not smoke. "People who smoke or vape tend to have a higher prevalence of other health conditions that could play a role in how they are impacted by Covid-19," said Aruni Bhatnagar, professor of medicine at the University of Louisville in the US.-IANS

India ASEAN Summit 2022 held at REVA University

Dr. P Shyama Raju elected as Trade Commissioner of Karnataka for India ASEAN Trade Council

The India ASEAN Summit 2022 was organised at the REVA University Bangalore campus on Wednesday. Diplomats and bureaucrats from the South East Asian countries participated in the event and delivered key insights on the bilateral relations between India and ASEAN countries.

The chief guests for the event were Moe Kyaw Aung, Ambassador of Myanmar in India; Bounneme Chouanghom, Ambassador of Laos in India; and Ung Sean, Ambassador of Cambodia in India.

Speaking at the event Moe Kyaw Aung said, " This event is particularly relevant this year as we celebrate 30 years of ASEAN India relation. ASEAN is the key factor for the Indian Government in bringing development to the North Eastern regions. I am confident that in the post-COVID world, the ties between India and Myanmar have a long way to go. I hope that the summit will be a great platform to foster bilateral relations."

Bounneme Chouanghom spoke at length about the bilateral relations between India and Laos. "When AEC was formed in 2015, it gave new opportunities for LOAS in fostering and improving better relationship ties between ASEAN countries. Laos will play a big role in the supply chain management in these countries including India," he said.

Ung Sean started his speech by promoting Cambodia and its cultural heritage to the crowd. He said, "It is my pleasure to be here at REVA University to talk about bilateral relations between India and Cambodia. Cambodia is an important partner to foster bilateral ties between ASEAN countries and India. In this post-COVID time, we should try harder to reach better and improved strategic and bilateral relations between ASEAN countries."

During the event, REVA University Chancellor, Dr. P Shyama Raju was conferred with the title of Trade Commissioner of Karnataka for India ASEAN Trade Council. In his address, he said, "The summit is important for the education system as well as to REVA University so that there will be a robust system and better engagement between students in India and ASEAN countries."

HEART ATTACKS

Are we sitting on a CAD Time bomb?

DR. MAHANTESH R CHARANTIMATH

There is a strong possibility of a genetic risk factor with a high prevalence of coronary artery disease (CAD) and Cardiovascular disease (CVD) in Indians and South Asians. The incidence, prevalence, and mortality, from premature CAD, in Indians and other South Asians have been among the highest reported for any ethnic group in different countries due to rapid change in lifestyle and habits.

The prevalence of CAD is 89% – 300% higher among Indian men than among whites in the US. The CAD mortality rates have been declining in the Indian diasporas, but the rate of decline is slower than the rates for those born in the UK. Many studies confirm a higher morbidity and mortality in South Asians than in whites following Acute myocardial infarction (AMI), percutaneous coronary intervention (PCI), or coronary artery bypass graft(CABG) surgery.

Heart attack is a lifestyle-related disease.

Malignant CAD in young Indians

Indians are particularly susceptible to premature CAD leading to heart attack at an earlier age. In a study of 877 patients with angiographically documented CAD in India, more than one-half of patients were <55 years and one-third were <45 years, with a mean age of 48 years. Despite the young age, multivessel disease (MVD) which includes double-vessel disease (DVD), three-vessel disease (TVD), and left main disease was found in 79% of patients. Additionally, coronary athero- sclerosis was generally diffuse with multiple sites of obstruction in most vessels. In another large Indian study, the median age of CABG surgery was 60 years; 6% of CABG was performed in those aged <45 years.

Extreme premature 'Malignant CAD' is a term coined by Enas and Mehta in 1995, wherein they highlighted the unique features of CAD in young Indians.

The three hallmarks of malignant CAD in Indians are extreme prematurity, extreme severity, and high mortality at a young age. A notable element, that can be considered the fourth feature of malignant CAD, is that established risk factors are at low levels or absent.

Prevention

In view of such a high incidence of cardiovascular disease, we require intense screening for primary prevention and adoption of healthy lifestyle which includes healthy heart diet, vegetables, fruits, regular exercise, weight reduction, controlling hypertension, diabetes, stress levels, quiting smoking and drug abuse.

Assessment of cardiovascular risk can be done by taking the following parameters into consideration. There are risk enhancing factors for clinician-patient risk calculation:

- Family history of premature CAD (males, age <55y; females, age <65 y)
- High Cholestrol
- Metabolic syndrome (increased waist circumference, elevated triglycerides, blood pressure, glucose, and low HDL-C are factors, a tally of 3 makes the diagnosis)
- Chronic kidney disease
- Chronic inflammatory conditions
- History of premature menopause and pregnancy-associated conditions, such as preeclampsia and hypertension.
- Lipids/biomarkers: associated with increased CAD risk.

'KANNADA INDUSTRY IS GROWING, RESPECTED, AND FINALLY GETTING ITS DUE'

A SHARADHAA

EVEN after 26 years of being in the movies, Sudeep still has the fire burning in him and enjoys every moment of his career. With Vikrant Rona gearing up for release, the pan-Indian star strongly believes every film of his should have enough reasons for audience to come to the theatres. "My exams have been written, and it is time for them to give me the marks," says Sudeep in this chat with Cinema Express where the actor discusses at length about his upcoming film, Vikrant Rona, his ambitions, the Kannada film industry, and more... Excerpts

You have invested four years into Vikrant Rona. Do you see it as a gamble or confidence?
How does it matter whether a film has taken four years or one year? It is the quality that matters.

Films, where you played a father, have been successful. Is there some connection there?
Maybe. Maybe not. If you start connecting dots, everything looks cosmic. We like to connect things and give them a name, and I treat them the way it comes. I love such roles where there is value for emotions and relationships, and it seems to be working for me.

There is very little that we know of Vikrant Rona. What are the surprises you have in place?
It all boils down to what the script is. What if the film is a solo act? What if one guy is playing different personalities? Connecting with Vikrant Rona is similar to the audience's connection with a film like Eega, which was mainly about me and a fly. All I can say is there is no lead actress alongside me. I play a layered character called Vikrant Rona. I have a daughter in the film. This movie is all about content, and we have stuck to it."

Ra Ra Rakkamma song has been trending, and so has the Vikrant Rona trailer. Do numbers excite you anymore?
It is proof that people have loved the song and the trailers, and it is a reflection of the reach. In fact, Japanese people have done reels on Rakkamma. This is more exciting than numbers, which can be fake. What actually excites me is honesty, and I can genuinely feel the positivity around the film. The audience's direct responses, and on social media speaks louder than numbers.

Did Vikrant Rona's genre help in making the decision to go 3D?
The 2D version of the world we created for Vikrant Rona wasn't doing justice to our vision. So we went with 3D, and of course, the budget skyrocketed, but I felt it was the best decision for a fantasy action film like this.

Vikrant Rona* faced a lot of setbacks. How did you move past all of it?
Jack Manju (producer) never let us know of his financial burden despite having a tough time. However, we were all on the same page about where we stood in the overall scheme of things and worked towards a common vision. We kept revisiting our edits and were always excited to get back to the sets again. The delay was not during the shooting but during the post-production. Delays happened in the process of CG, and making it in 3D.

You are working with a considerably new team, especially on the technical front.
Art director Shivakumar is somebody I brought into the industry with Manikya. He is the first hero of Vikrant Rona. William David's lighting and visual sense elevated Vikrant Rona, which was brought to life with Ajaneesh Loknath's beautiful music. There are a lot of heroes in the film, and probably, Nirup and I come last on that list. They have done a fabulous job. It was a lovely experience to understand their perspectives, and see their enthusiasm and energy.

How do you select a script? What are the boxes they have to check?
While my perspectives have changed over the years, I still believe in the importance of connecting with the audience, and trusting the content. Cinema is no more just picking and doing a film on a whim. We have to think about whether the story appeals to people across the world. Whenever such a script comes my way, I jump on the opportunity. For now, I am doing a film with Venkat Prabhu. I'm also in discussion with director Surendra Reddy for a project. There is my Vikrant Rona director Anup Bhandari's Billa Ranga Basha, and my boy, Nanda (Nanda Kishore)'s project, which is quite new and interesting. This apart, I am in touch with a few other filmmakers. I am someone who goes with the flow.

As a senior in Sandalwood, how do you see the newly rejuvenated reception to the industry?
It's growing. It is being respected, and finally getting its due. Even with films like KGF doing the rounds, there are some OTT content that is making quite the mark. It has been a collaborative effort. It is time that the present generation make the best use of this and take the industry, and themselves, to the next level.

When you go to other industries, do they understand your stardom? Are you actually comfortable taking a few steps down in the roles you do in other languages?
Unlike other industries, I don't think my own industry initially respected and acknowledged it. It took a long time for my industry to give me that kind of respect. I got respect from some big names in the industry because they understood the nuance of cinema. But yeah, I have no regrets. I'm both a cinema person and a commoner. I believe respect should be for me as a person, and not as a star. That being said, I have no reservations against playing roles that are not the lead, as long as they have a strong character arc. In fact, without the reasons being on point, I won't even accept a lead role.

With industries opening up, will you make your dream script in Kannada or any other language? What is the kind of script you have in mind?
Our thinking has a language, and I think only in Kannada. So whatever I do, the core will come from Karnataka. I am going to tell a story from here. I will not change it just because markets have opened up. This is where I start, and even if it gets a fair and wide reach, this will surely remain. I might migrate as an actor, but as a storyteller, it will begin from here.

Prithviraj recently said that big stars of each industry should take the first step in taking their movies everywhere. Does he see Kannada cinema making inroads into such a system?
We are already there. Prithviraj is a fabulous technician and I admire him a lot, especially for his knowledge. I enjoyed his film, Lucifer. Also, I am in awe of the way the Malayalam industry has established itself in the OTT space. It is time everybody, especially big filmmakers, from every industry, who have the potential to carry the weight, release their films in multiple languages.

In that case, how do you evaluate the reach of your film and devise the release strategy?
We have to understand whether a script has the potential to cross borders. . Just because markets have opened, and Vikrant Rona is travelling across the world, I don't think every film should be thought of from that angle. We will fall short and run out of ideas. Not every story needs to be told to the entire world. In fact, just tell your story, and the world will decide if they should see it or not.

Just like your presence in other industries, do you see a time when big stars of other industries play similar roles in Kannada?
It is an individual decision. By the end of the day, we do need actors, and if they come, it is wonderful, and if they don't, even then it isn't a problem. Of course, we don't have big names from the present generation of Indian stars doing a role here. But it should not be looked at as a bad thing. Going to other languages is also our decision. Let's not make it look like a compulsion for anyone.
